School Year	State Target	Met State Target?
2010-11	1.1%	N/A

The State compares the rates of suspensions and expulsions of greater than 10 days in a school year for children with IEPs among the school districts in the State. The State's definition of significant discrepancy is any school district with 10 or more children with disabilities suspended or expelled with a risk ratio and weighted risk ratio 5.0 or above. School districts identified during the 2008-2009 school year were required to correct their policies, procedures, and practices during the 2009-2010 school year.

Measurement A: Percent of districts identified by the State as having significant discrepancy in the rates of suspensions and expulsions of children with disabilities for greater than 10 days in a school year compared to state target.

School Year	State Target	Met State Target?
2010-11	1.1%	N/A

The State compares the rates of suspensions and expulsions of greater than 10 days in a school year for children with IEPs among the school districts in the State. The State's definition of significant discrepancy is any school district with 10 or more children with disabilities suspended or expelled with a risk ratio and weighted risk ratio 5.0 or above. School districts identified during the 2008-2009 school year were required to correct their policies, procedures, and practices during the 2009-2010 school year.

Measurement A: Percent of districts identified by the State as having significant discrepancy in the rates of suspensions and expulsions of children with disabilities for greater than 10 days in a school year compared to state target.

School Year	State Target	Met State Target?
2010-11	1.1%	N/A

The State compares the rates of suspensions and expulsions of greater than 10 days in a school year for children with IEPs among the school districts in the State. The State's definition of significant discrepancy is any school district with 10 or more children with disabilities suspended or expelled with a risk ratio and weighted risk ratio 5.0 or above. School districts identified during the 2008-2009 school year were required to correct their policies, procedures, and practices during the 2009-2010 school year.

School Year	State Target	Met State Target?
2010-11	0%	N/A

The State compares the rates of suspensions and expulsions of greater than 10 days in a school year for children with IEPs, by race or Ethnicity, among the school districts in the State. The State's definition of significant discrepancy is any school district with 10 or more children with disabilities suspended or expelled with a risk ratio and weighted risk ratio of 5.0 or above. School districts identified during the 2008-2009 school year were required to correct their policies, procedures, and practices during the 2009-2010 school year.

Indicator 5: School Age Least Restrictive Environment (LRE)

Measurement: Percent of students with IEPs, ages 6 through 21 in three LRE settings compared to the state target.

The State compares the rates of suspensions and expulsions of greater than 10 days in a school year for children with IEPs among the school districts in the State. The State's definition of significant discrepancy is any school district with 10 or more children with disabilities suspended or expelled with a risk ratio and weighted risk ratio 5.0 or above. School districts identified during the 2008-2009 school year were required to correct their policies, procedures, and practices during the 2009-2010 school year.
