

8TH GRADE WRITING STANDARDS BREAKDOWN

Anchor Standard/ Domain Name: Writing

Text Types and Purposes: Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

Standard Text:

W.8.1 Write arguments to support claims with clear reasons and relevant evidence

- a) Introduce claim(s), acknowledge and distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and organize the reasons and evidence logically.
- b) Support claim(s) with logical reasoning and relevant evidence, using accurate, credible sources and demonstrating an understanding of the topic or text.
- c) Use words, phrases, and clauses to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.
- d) Establish and maintain a formal style.
- e) Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

Students who can demonstrate understanding can:

- write a claim that states a particular position or argument and describe or contrast how it differs from alternate or opposing claims.
- conduct reading or research using accurate, credible sources and choose relevant details that helps students to construct an organized argument with logical reasoning to support a claim.
- construct an argument that is organized and cohesive, using transition words and phrases that show relationships among evidence and between claims and counterclaims, i.e. comparing, contrasting, and sequencing.
- integrate content and context-related vocabulary from sources to establish and maintain a formal style.
- write a concluding statement or paragraph that ties together the argument presented.

Vertical Alignment to Previous Grades:

W.6.1, W.7.1

Vertical Alignment to Future Grades:

W.9-10.1

Clarification Statement:

Argument writing establishes a writer’s position on a topic using sound reasoning and evidence. Argument writing has many purposes – to change the reader’s point of view, to call a reader to action, or to convince the reader that the writer’s explanation or purported version of the truth is accurate. Writers use legitimate reasons and relevant evidence in a logical progression to validate the writer’s position or claim(s). By the end of eighth grade, students understand how to write arguments in support of claims that include clear reasons and pertinent evidence.

Vocabulary for Teacher Development:

- audiences – the people who watch, listen to, view, and/or read something presented via an artistic medium
- claim(s) – an assertion(s) of the truth of something, often a value statement; generally, an author uses evidence to support the assertion of truth
- cohesion – the action of forming a unified whole; the quality of being united logically
- counterclaims – claims that rebut a previous claim or value statement, generally supported by evidence contrary to that which was presented to support the original claim

Vertical Alignment to Previous Grades:  W.6.3, W.7.3 Vertical Alignment to Future Grades:  W.9-10.3	Clarification Statement:  Narratives share an experience, either real or imagined, and use time as their core structures. Narratives can be stories, novels, and plays, or they can be personal accounts, like memoirs, anecdotes, and autobiographies. Narrative writing has many purposes—to inform, teach, persuade, or entertain readers. Writers utilize event sequencing and pacing, create characters, use vivid sensory details and other literary elements to evoke reactions from and create effects on the reader. By the end of eighth grade, students understand how to write narratives to unfold and share real or imagined experiences or events by using effective narrative techniques, related and illustrative details, and a purposefully structured sequence of events.

	Vocabulary for Teacher Development: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• describe, description, descriptive details – to explain something in words; the details necessary to give a full and precise account</li> <li>• pacing – the speed at which a story progresses, evidence is presented, and/or information is delineated, affecting the overall tone of a literary work (e.g., a rapid, clipped pace inspires a sense of urgency)</li> </ul>
Anchor Standard/ Domain Name: Writing Production and Distribution of Writing: Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
Standard Text: W.8.4 Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.	Students who can demonstrate understanding can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• draft writing pieces that adhere to a clear topic or purpose.</li> <li>• writing demonstrates clear organization around a central topic or linear narrative.</li> <li>• adapt their writing style and format for task, purpose, and audience.</li> </ul>
Vertical Alignment to Previous Grades: W.6.4, W.7.4 Vertical Alignment to Future Grades: W.9-10.4	Clarification Statement: The teacher may choose to create topics for students, or he/she may allow students to choose topics themselves. Once a topic has been explored, students develop the purpose and focus for their writing. After determining their purpose and focus, students determine which concepts, ideas, and information are important for their pieces. Students then organize the concepts, ideas, and information around the chosen purpose and focus by using outlines or graphic organizers to plan and prepare for writing. Students begin by writing introductions that clearly identify the topic and provide a preview of what will be explored further in the rest of the piece. Students are encouraged to use strategies like definition, classification, compare/contrast, and cause/effect to establish an organization for ideas, concepts, and information on the topic under study. In the body of their pieces, students develop the topic with pertinent facts, definitions, concrete details, quotes, examples, and any additional information necessary. As students draft their pieces, they use appropriate transitions to reflect the organizational structure of the text, create cohesion, and provide a clear understanding of how the ideas relate to the concepts.
Anchor Standard/ Domain Name: Writing Production and Distribution of Writing: Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach.
Standard Text: W.8.5 With some guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on how well purpose and audience have been addressed.	Students who can demonstrate understanding can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• engage in all steps of the writing process, including planning, revising, editing, rewriting.</li> <li>• incorporate revisions to make substantive changes to writing.</li> <li>• edit writing, aligned to 8th language standards.</li> </ul>

The teacher also conducts writing conferences with students during the drafting and revising processes to support students with writing pieces that include an identified topic with relevant facts, definitions, and details to explain the identified topic. During the editing process, the teacher and peers guide students and consider the task and purpose of the piece. Guiding questions for this purpose might include “Do I identify my topic?” and “Are the facts, definitions, and details grouped in a way that clearly explains my topic and achieves my purpose for writing?”
Anchor Standard/ Domain Name: Writing Production and Distribution of Writing: Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and to interact and collaborate with others.
Standard Text: W.8.6 Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.	Students who can demonstrate understanding can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• use technology tools to draft writing pieces through revision editing, and publishing processes.</li> <li>• use technology to research and share information and interact and collaborate with others.</li> </ul>

Vertical Alignment to Previous Grades: W.6.10, W.7.10 Vertical Alignment to Future Grades: W.9-10.10	Clarification Statement: To build a foundation for college and career readiness, students need to learn to use writing as a way of offering and supporting opinions, demonstrating understanding of the subjects they are studying, and conveying real and imagined experiences and events. They learn to appreciate that a key purpose of writing is to communicate clearly to an external, sometimes unfamiliar audience, and they begin to adapt the form and content of their writing to accomplish a particular task and purpose. They develop the capacity to build knowledge on a subject through research projects and to respond analytically to literary and informational sources. To meet these goals, students must devote significant time and effort to writing, producing numerous pieces over short and extended time frames throughout the year.
