Warm-up

What is one success that your school or school district has had in the last month?

AGENDA

- Re-orienting the planning mindset
- Drivers of Student-Centered, Equitable Budgeting
- New Mexico Acts & Targeted Strategies
- Breakout discussion

“Budgeting is the manifestation of an organization’s strategy: whether they are the result of thoughtful planning; the inertia of long years of doing approximately the same thing; or competing political forces that result in organized borrowing with others.”

– Lee, Johnson, and Joyce, 2004

Re-orienting the Planning Mindset

What is student-centered equitable budgeting?

“Refers to processes and practices focused on the equitable distribution of resources through alignment to identified student needs. This process is part of a wider approach for increasing and sustaining student achievement and positive educational outcomes for all students.”

Re-orienting the planning mindset

Basis versus Purpose

Basis of Funding

Refers to the methodology under which revenues and expenses are recognized in financial statements.

- “Per pupil amount”
- Dollars per student group

Purpose of Funding

Improve outcomes for all students that particularly increase and improve services for student groups in need of additional supports.

LEA Planning Process

Drivers of Student-Centered, Equitable Budgeting

1. Meaningful Consultation with Stakeholders

Each LEA that receives federal and state funds must engage in meaningful consultation with stakeholders and public opportunity to provide input in the development of its plan, including:

- Students and families;
- School and district administrators (including special education administrators);
- Teachers, principals, school leaders, other educators, school staff, and their unions.

Also, to the extent present in or served by the LEA:

- Tribes;
- Civil rights organizations (including disability rights organizations); and stakeholders representing the interests of children with disabilities,
- English learners,
- Children experiencing homelessness, children in foster care, migratory students, children who are incarcerated, and other underserved students.

2. Clear Guidance from Federal (and State) Sources

In the school district plan for the use of ARP ESSER:

...and address the disproportionate impact of COVID-19 on underrepresented student subgroups, including each major racial and ethnic group, children from low-income families, children with disabilities, English learners, gender, migrant students, students experiencing homelessness and children and youth in foster care...

3. Data to Show Disproportionality in Student Groups

What does data help us as practitioners do? How students are doing, generally, that leads to an assignment of strategies to address them.

Shifts

- Label versus need problem
- From ‘what’s all the data’ to ‘what’s the right data’

Additional resources

- DASH 90-day plans and/or EdPlan
- Supplemental modules Student Groups and Strategic Resource Allocation

Moving the Needle: Attainment

While English Learners and African American students have made great gains in graduation rates, they still fall below the NM state average.

Native American students are graduating at a lower rate than other peers.

Attendance Challenges

The chronic absenteeism rate nearly doubled during COVID-19.

In 2019, absenteeism exceeded the state average for Native American Students (26%) and Economically Disadvantaged Students (20%).

Note: Chronically absent means missing 10% or more of the school year for any reason, including both excused and un-excused absences

Achievement: Proficiency by Demographics

Reading and Math proficiency is lowest among Native American, economically disadvantaged, and English Learner students in contrast to other peers.

Supplemental Funds

Funds that pay for the comprehensive services necessary to strengthen the program and can benefit ALL children, regardless of eligibility.
