

Existing SBP documentaries (each airs on PBS)

For Use by PED for zoom meeting, January 4, 2022

Canes of Power, narrated by Wes Studi 57 minutes

This is the story of President Lincoln's gift of engraved Canes to each of New Mexico's 19 Pueblo nations, symbolizing the recognition of their tribal sovereignty. Weaving in the history of New Mexico from European invasion until the Civil War, it explores the changes in the state's governance as it impacts Native American history and sovereignty.

trailer for Canes:

<https://vimeo.com/151400807>

A Thousand Voices, narrated by Irene Bedard 57 minutes

This is the inspiring story of the power of Native American women in New Mexico, from the beginning of time, through invasions from Spain, Mexico, and the United States, to the present day. Their power remains, and their stories continue.

A Thousand Voices Trailer vimeo.com/151400805

Defending the Fire, narrated by Wes Studi 57 minutes

This is a journey through time with Native American warriors who have fought to protect their lands and way of life. Surviving broken treaties and prohibition of culture, the Warrior spirit lives in the Indian men and women who have fought through Indian wars, World Wars, and contemporary Wars to defend country, people and environment.

trailer link: for DtF

vimeo.com/217551306

no password required

However Wide the Sky: Places of Power, narrated by Tantoo Cardinal 57 minutes. Most recent release to PBS.

The history and spirituality of the Indigenous People of the American Southwest are deeply rooted in the Land. Since the beginning of time, they have been stewards and protectors their home lands, past and present. These places intimately connect the people and their beliefs to the natural world. No place is ever abandoned; the landscape is forever living. This their story of the Land and who they are. (The specific locations and histories are Chaco Canyon, Zuni Salt Lake, Taos Blue Lake, Santa Ana Pueblo, Bears Ears, Mesa Prieta, and Santa Fe)

<https://vimeo.com/569032562>

In addition, SBP has produced Ancient Pathways, Modern Leaders (45 minutes) about the selection of leaders in Pueblo governance, moderated by Conroy Chino; and a short film on the meaning of the Zia Sun Symbol. Neither of these were released to PBS.