MEMORANDUM

TO: Kurt Steinhaus, Ed.D., Secretary of Education

FROM: Anthony Burns, Bureau Chief, Instructional Material Bureau

RE: Authorization of the 2022 K-12 Social Studies, Arts Education, and Math Instructional Materials

Pursuant to NMSA 22-15-8, the Instructional Material Bureau (IMB) has completed the 2022 summer review institute. The adoption was for grades K-12 Social Studies and Arts Education instructional materials. In addition, a mid-cycle review of grades 8-12 grade mathematics was completed. The review was to determine alignment of the instructional materials with New Mexico academic content and performance standards as well as other relevant high-quality criteria. The reviewers of the instructional materials were Level II and Level III New Mexico teachers.

I am requesting your signature on the enclosed letter, which will authorize the list of Social Studies, Arts Education, and Mathematics instructional materials for inclusion on the adopted multiple list as core (CIM) and supplementary (SIM) instructional materials. The list is linked on page 21 of this document. Your signed letter authorizing the newly adopted Social Studies and Arts Education materials will be posted on the IMB webpage.

Of the 56 grade-level titles reviewed at the Institute, 22 are recommended, 18 are recommended with reservations, and 16 are not recommended and not adopted. The instructional materials listed as core instructional material (CIM) that scored at 90 percent or better are recommended; those that scored 80 to 89 percent are recommended with reservations; and those that scored below 80 percent are not recommended and not included on the adopted multiple list. In addition, the materials were reviewed against specific criteria to determine the extent they are culturally and linguistically relevant (CLR) for New Mexico students. Those that scored at 90 percent or higher on the CLR criteria are given specific recognition. Scores have been rounded. Materials recommended as supplementary instructional material (SIM) were not reviewed as they reinforce, enrich, or enhance instruction driven by core instructional materials. Materials may be print, digital, or both.

In order to assist districts and schools with identifying the highest quality core instructional materials, we will be posting ranked lists of the scored core materials by subject and grade level on the IMB webpage and on our HQIM Reviews website. In addition, we will post the complete list of newly adopted Social Studies and Arts Education instructional materials with review scores for LEAs to sort and rank as needed. Appraisals of the materials completed by the review teams will also be posted for the LEAs to use as they select materials.

July 15, 2022

To whom it may concern:

In accordance with NMSA 22-15-8, the Instructional Material Bureau has completed the 2022 summer review institute. The adoption is for grades K-12 Social Studies and Arts Education instructional materials. In addition, a mid-cycle review of grades 8-12 mathematics was completed. The summer review institute was to review the instructional materials to determine their alignment with New Mexico academic content standards and criteria for determining quality. As statutorily required, the reviewers of the instructional materials were Level II and III New Mexico teachers.

The instructional materials listed as core instructional material (CIM) that scored at 90 percent or better are recommended; those that scored 80 to 89 percent are recommended with reservations; and those that scored below 80 percent are not recommended and not included on the adopted multiple list. In addition, the materials were reviewed against specific criteria to determine the extent they are culturally and linguistically relevant (CLR) for New Mexico students. Those that scored at 90 percent or higher on the CLR criteria are given specific recognition. Scores have been rounded. Materials recommended as supplementary instructional material (SIM) were not reviewed as they reinforce, enrich or enhance instruction driven by core instructional materials. Materials may be print, digital, or both.

I hereby authorize the adoption of the grades K-12 Social Studies, Arts Education, and Mathematics instructional materials to the adopted multiple list.

Respectfully,
