COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Yes. COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Commissioner Manis. COMMISSIONER MANIS: Yes. COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Commissioner Robbins. COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Yes. (Verbatim.) COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: If I need to stop, I'll look at you and look at her, because she can't see me. THE CHAIR: All right. Next item is Open Forum. We do have two people signed up to speak. When I call your name, you can come up to the microphone -- actually, we have a microphone that we've tried to do to stop it has come with more retaliation, more bullying, more intimidation.

Read our minutes. It's in the minutes. It's so obvious. And we continue to speak out -- thank you. I'm so sorry. I really thought I was going to have it together this morning. I practiced this, I promise.

We continue to speak out. We continue to whistle-blow. We continue to do whatever, and it just gets worse and worse. And I'm not really sure what else to do. So this is kind of our last-ditch effort.

I know that you all are fair. I've been through enough of these meetings to see when other schools were in trouble, you were fair, you were precise. I have the utmost confidence that something can be done for our school, because I don't think it's going to last.

So I appreciate you listening today. I know that there have been plenty of people that have sent information about it. It's almost like you're living in a nightmare or a movie. You can't even imagine what's going to happen next.

I've been accused of horrible things.

Those of you that know me know that I tattle on here. Either one.

If you'd like to sit, you can sit there, or there's a microphone by the stand you can stand at. And if you could limit your comments to two to three minutes, that would be appreciated.

All right. The first is Angela Feathers.

FROM THE FLOOR: Good morning. Good morning, Charter Directors. I am scared to death.

I am here today to ask for help for La Tierra Montessori school. I never imagined that the last time that we were all together that I would be here in this -- in this setting. In the last month or so, our school has completely imploded. I feel like the more we speak out, the more retaliation we get.

I'm worried about our children; I'm worried about the future of the school, and, most importantly, worried about my staff -- or not "my staff" anymore.

As you know my contract was not renewed. I hear lots of things like, "Oh, Angela, you'll be fine. You'll get a job." I'm sure that's fine.

But the future of Montessori in the Española Valley is in jeopardy. There are people that are scared to speak out right now. Anything myself. I call you guys and I tell you what's wrong. And I assure you that we did everything that we could to make that school amazing. And we had such a successful charter renewal. And to see what's going on now: Our children don't have lunches set up for the beginning of the year. There is no plan going on. Our teachers don't know what's going on.

I have people saying, "I can't even drive up to the school because my stomach hurts so bad, I don't even want to go in."

And that's not the place it was when we left it in June.

And for what? For what? What is -- what is the reason?

So I'm begging you, please, please help that school. Whether I'm there or not, please help that school. Thank you.

THE CHAIR: Thank you.

20 Our next speaker is Paul Krane. 21 FROM THE FLOOR: Hello T

FROM THE FLOOR: Hello. Thank you, members of the Commission for hearing me. I'd just like to speak briefly to the effect that the board -- the board's actions have had on the staff of La Tierra Montessori. I know of -- I know of DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Awesome.

And -- and so Dr. Robert Jessen is also in the audience. If he can be promoted to the panel, that would be great.

And, again, if you're here, Michael Brewer, please raise your hand. I know that last week, we called all of the new head administrators. We let them know that they would be on the agenda, that the new -- that something that's kind of new and different is that we want, anytime that there is a new head administrator, to come to the PEC meeting. It's easy now because we have hybrid meetings. But just to come say hi.

And folks know Veronica, and they also know Robert.

So without further adieu, I'm going to turn it over to -- to Robert.

DR. ROBERT JESSEN: Thank you very much, Commission. Hello, Commissioners of -- Corina. It's very exciting to be back in the saddle again after a year off and working with the State. The MASTERS Program is a very special school. When I attended the training conference at the end of last school year, I kept seeing panelists who were doing

1 today. We're really grateful for you to take the 2 time to come say hi to us. And congratulations on 3 your new positions, or your now lonely-at-the-top 4 position, Ms. Torres.

5 So thanks for taking on those roles.

All right. That'll move us to Item No. 6 -- or, sorry -- item No. 7 which is Discussion and Possible Action on the Educational Program Change for McCurdy Charter School.

Director Chavez.

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Yes. I see that Sarah Tario is in the audience. If she could be promoted to the panel as well.

And I'm actually going to ask Deputy Director Dr. Russell to take this one.

DR. BRIGETTE RUSSELL: Good morning, Chair Burt, Commissioners.

McCurdy Charter School has submitted an amendment request to amend their educational program. They are removing the requirement for students to take financial literacy, but keeping the four math credits required, and they are changing the language in one section for a service learning course.

The contract currently says "one hour," pilots at The MASTERS Program. So I'm very excited to be here, and I'm excited to work with the

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Thank you, Dr. Jessen.

Missy, has anybody raised their hand? I don't think Michael Brewer has made it to the meeting. And so we'll invite him again for the August meeting. He has been hired by the Raíces del Saber Xinachtli Community School as an interim head administrator.

We sent out a letter, Commissioners, to all of the charter school head administrators and chairs of governing boards asking if they would let us know if there's a transition.

This is a time, as we switch fiscal and school years, that contracts may change and new people -- people retire, people leave, and new people come in. And so I think there could potentially be some additional folks in August. But we'll just keep track of that and let you know and add to the agenda next month anybody that we learn of.

THE CHAIR: Thank you. All right. So thank you to our school leaders that joined us and it should say "one credit." That's just cleanup language.

They intended to -- to make this a one-credit-hour course, and the contract makes it look as though it's only a one-hour course.

CSD recommends approving both changes.

THE CHAIR: Thank you.

Yeah. Commissioner questions?

Commissioner Voigt, and then Commissioner Carrillo, then Commissioner Robbins.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Thank you, 12 Madam Chair.

> I just have a question -- good morning, Sarah.

What four math credits are going to be required? I know there's probably Algebra 1, Geometry, Algebra 2. What is that fourth one going to be?

MS. SARAH TARIO: So the State of New Mexico requires four math credits. And the fourth one is really kind of an optional one. The one that's really stipulated by the State is Algebra 2, so that's obviously still required.

Our high schoolers will take Algebra 1, Geometry, Algebra 2, and have an option on the fourth credit to take a college credit, Financial Lit. Most will take Financial Lit. They can take Applied Math or a math lab. They have more options this way, which is what the board really talked about in their meeting and wanted to provide.

When we completed our negotiations, we had included that Financial Lit, but they hadn't had that full discussion yet. So once they had the discussion, they just felt we wanted to make sure not to limit students and give them the freedom to choose that fourth math credit.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Thank you. I was just curious.

With that, then, there's probably a possibility for some dual credit.

MS. SARAH TARIO: Absolutely. Which is what we want them to do.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Super. Thank you so much.

MS. SARAH TARIO: Of course.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Carrillo.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Hi, Ms. Tario.

It's nice to see you.

MS. SARAH TARIO: Nice to see you, too. COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: The -- so I that. I'm glad you'll still offer Financial Literacy. For those that are going on kind of a math and engineering track, do you also have, as part of your curriculum, available, like, trigonometry or precal- -- calculus?

MS. SARAH TARIO: I wish I could say yes. We would send a student to a college to take dual credit for those courses if they were interested. We did have it about three or four years ago. But we have maybe five to six kids who are interested, and we just don't have enough staff to cover that.

(Commissioner Chavez joins the meeting online.)

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I understand that.

The great thing is New Mexico -- the college there is so close.

MS. SARAH TARIO: That is great, and offers a lot of those options for us.

 $\label{eq:commissioner} COMMISSIONER\ CARRILLO:\ All-righty.\ Thank \\ you.$

MS. SARAH TARIO: My pleasure.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Robbins?

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Well, I am personally concerned about eliminating from your requirements the Financial Literacy. You know, it was a unique kind of a leading-edge requirement that remember -- and I don't know how it was resolved, and probably somebody here at the table knows.

So the Legislature -- what was the action that was taken regarding Financial Literacy or the requirements for Algebra 2? I mean, is Algebra 2 now -- is it still a requirement as a math credit?

MS. SARAH TARIO: Yes. They haven't taken action on that yet. They've talked about it. They talked about making Financial Lit the requirement instead of Algebra 2. They haven't made that change. It's still Algebra 2 that's required.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Thanks. That's something that we should -- I don't know how others feel, but that's something we should work with the NMSBA on and all come together on that.

Because especially on the Financial Literacy piece, all you've got to do is drive down Riverside Drive and look at all the different title loan places, all the different things where they're giving money away, but people don't fully understand what that compounded interest is going to end up being, even in a month or -- so the Financial Lit -- and I know you agree -- I want to look there, and I want to look up there -- to agree on that.

So that -- thank you for letting me know this school had. Taking it away while the Legislature is considering making it a requirement, I think is shortsighted, and I think it hurts students, you know.

I took bookkeeping instead of financial literacy. My father was a business owner when I was in high school. So I learned about contracts and all that type of stuff.

But most of our high school students, you know, they don't get sufficient depth in math education, you know.

Trig and calc, you know, I've heard college professors say leave it to the college professors to teach trig and calc, because at the high school level these days, it is not in-depth enough. And I've had reports that college professors who had students that got A's and B's in high school were flunking it in college because they did not give them the basics. They just skirted the top level.

But you know, financial literacy, I think is so important. It's in the high -- a high-level attention of the Legislature. It is something that I think we realize when 70 percent -- roughly 70 percent -- of our students are on Free and

You know, to me, it's doing a disservice to the students. And it really kind of just puts this school on par with any other school in terms of their math. I really thought this school was kind of pushing the envelope in requiring that.

And I'm sad. And, personally, I don't agree with the removal of Financial Literacy. It's just not a good move for the students.

Thank you.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Manis?

COMMISSIONER MANIS: I would just like to echo what Commissioner Robbins said. I think the financial literacy piece is pretty important for all of the reasons that he had mentioned. Thank you.

MS. SARAH TARIO: Can I just -- I'll just say that I'm going to take those comments back to the board. The financial literacy is something I strongly believe our students need. I am highly supportive of the Legislature changing that requirement so that it's financial literacy instead of Algebra 2. I think that meets the needs of students better.

There might be an opportunity for us to really think about another way to have financial because anytime you're -- and you know this better than anyone, Ms. Tario -- anytime you're making a course mandatory, you're eliminating the chance for an elective and something the kid might generally be interested in and be relevant to what they might want to pursue.

So, I mean, we'll see what happens with the Legislature. And I really hope we can combine forces with the NMSBA. Yeah.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Gipson.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Yeah. I think at this point in time, it's -- I agree that financial literacy is really important. But it's within the school's autonomy to create the curriculum and abide by State statute and PED rules. And they do.

So I don't really think we have the ability -- the authority to say, "No, you can't do that," at this moment in time, because they're not violating any statute or PED rule.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Voigt. COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Thank you, Madam Chair.

Yeah, I echo that. I feel this is the school's decision. However, I do feel that Algebra 2 is a gate-keeping course, and is not literacy be a requirement without making it be the fourth math credit. I like that creative thinking, so I will take those comments back to our board.

THE CHAIR: All right. If there's any Commissioners -- I do see Commissioner Carrillo, but I want to make sure, before we come back to you, if there's anyone else who wants to speak for the first time.

All right. Commissioner Carrillo. Oh. And I do want to say I saw -- Commissioner Chavez has joined. Good morning.

Commissioner Carrillo.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: You know, it's interesting, because I do agree with -- I feel like I can't hear my -- I agree with Commissioner Manis and Commissioner Robbins.

The challenge -- and you're still going to offer financial literacy. It's just not going to be -- so I would just say the children -children -- the high-schoolers, the kids, are heavily encouraged to take that course because of its importance.

And my challenge also sometimes -- and this happens -- I feel like this about New Mexico history, as well, being mandated in 4, 7, and 9, utilized, post-secondary even. Financial Literacy, I see as a more useful course for everybody. But, again, it is the -- it's the school's decision.

Thank you.

THE CHAIR: All right. I'll also say I think Commissioner Gipson put it exactly correctly. I think it's pretty clear-cut, you know. I do see -- I think Commissioner Robbins' comment about it maybe being a little shortsighted on the board might be -- I'm glad to hear that you might take that back to the board and just let them know that it might be something -- if you pull it out this year, you've got to put it right back in next year, and maybe that's a little shortsighted.

But I, 100 percent, understand the autonomy of the school, and I don't think this impacts the mission of the school. And so it doesn't seem within our purview to do anything but, you know, allow the school to exercise its autonomy.

And so I'm happy to do that.

Commissioner Taylor?

22 COMMISSIONER TAYLOR: Thank you. Thank 23 you, Chair Burt. I just have a quick question.

Is it -- will it still be -- will

15	THE CHAIR: All right.	15	THE CHAIR: Yeah. Thank you, Ms. Tario,
16	Commissioner Voigt.	16	for joining.

So this may be a multi-step process.

I will now turn this item over to Ms. Barnes to identify the sections of the contract, law, and bylaws that may be relevant to the concerns, and then to Director Chavez to start the discussion.

Ms. Barnes.

MS. JULIA BARNES: So I wanted to start with the Intervention Ladder. The Intervention Ladder is still an attachment to the contract. We're working towards the Intervention Ladder being separate, but it's still -- so we're looking at La Tierra Montessori's new contract, because it's the new contract year.

And this process, as Chair Burt just indicated, I don't see a way, unless there's an emergency, for it to be anything other than a two-step process.

So the school has come today to give you all more information so that you can see what action you may want to take.

And they have been notified that they would be on this agenda. But what's difficult for me to see how to do it in a one-step process is I'm actions taken.

The next level is Notice of Breach. And that moves towards a Corrective Action Plan in -- probably, in the -- one of the Performance Framework sections. And that would detail the actions and timelines that the school will implement to correct the breach.

Both of those notices, if they are corrected, the school is put back into good standing.

Let me just go through a few things, and we can go back to them later on in the conversation. But I just went through the contract, and I went through their bylaws with things that might be relevant.

The first one in the contract is Section 2, Scope. "The charter school must maintain one or more charter representatives, including one charter representative who is a head administrator, and provide contract information to the Commission within 30 days of a change of a charter representative."

We would be in that 30-day period now. The contract requires, under Governance, that the school "shall be governed by a governing not quite sure what concerns you'll have after this conversation. So we needed to have a conversation today.

So the Director is going to bring forward information. The school is here ready to answer questions. And then you could do a motion.

I'll just say the draft motion was drafted before we've heard this conversation, so I'm not sure where you want to go with it.

There are two -- well, there are several levels to the Intervention Ladder, as you know. There is a Notice of Concern, which is the lowest level of the Intervention Ladder.

And is -- and then there would be a Notice of an Intent to Issue a Notice of Concern, which you then might vote on in August, where you would establish expected outcomes and deadlines that must be met by the school. And the deadline established for correction must be -- shall be no less than ten days, including holidays and weekends, unless it's an emergency matter.

So one opportunity is for you to put them on a Notice of Concern of -- I also think that even if things have been remedied, there could still be a Notice of Concern that you were concerned with the body in a manner set forth with the school's bylaws."

In that same action section on Governance,
"The members of the governing board have a duty to comply with all provisions of this contract, all applicable laws without limitations, the Act, all regulations and reporting requirements," which would bring in the Open Meetings Act among other things.

Continuing in that same section, "All members of the governing board shall sign a certificate...," which has happened in this case, "...certifying their compliance with all federal and state laws governing the organizational, programmatic, and financial requirements applicable to charter schools."

Then they have agreed to an organizational framework and financial framework.

So those -- those provisions, among others, lead you both to the Open Meetings Act, which could be discussed as well, and then to the bylaws.

I just wanted to identify a few things in the bylaws that the school has agreed to. These are their amended bylaws.

"Hire, discharge, and evaluate..."

"The board must hire, discharge, and evaluate the administrator. The administrator shall be directly accountable to the governing council. The day-to-day operations of the school will be the responsibility of the administrator."

They delegate to the administrator "the authority to implement the approved charter school policies, procedures, facilities, plans, budget, and other directives and policies adopted by the governing council." Then, in bold, "The governing council shall not be involved in the day-to-day operations of the school."

The bylaws indicate that their governing council shall be comprised of "no less than five, no greater than nine voting members, which may establish their quorum, based on the number that are appointed at any given time."

And there's only a couple more.

The president -- "In the absence of the president, the vice president shall serve as chairperson of all meetings of the council."

The governing council members are -"...shall be up for election upon the completion of their term..." during -- "...annually, during a

THE CHAIR: I think so.

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: All right. Thank you for being here, members of La Tierra Montessori. I see that Chair Casados is here. If you could introduce yourself and the folks that you brought along with you.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Good morning, Director Chavez. Thank you so much, Chair. Thank you so much, Commissioners. My name is Isaac Casados. I am the new president of La Tierra Montessori School as of the last week and a half.

We are pleased to be here today to kind of speak about where La Tierra is, where we're moving in a positive direction.

To my right is our new Head Learner. This is Mr. Clifford Thompson, has a profound history with the Española Public School system, has helped Abiquiu Elementary School as well kind of prepare for their next level of success. He kind of encountered a similar situation where they had some challenges there, and he was brought in and sent to that school to help them in that process.

annual meeting."

And they shall -- "Election of officers are held during the annual meeting, and the members will serve appointments until the next annual meeting."

They're allowed to -- to call a special meeting. Under the Open Meetings Act, an agenda will be made public and contain items of business discussed. Public participation needs to be made available.

They are allowed to do meetings by telephone, but all participants -- all board members and the public should be given notice of any telephone meeting.

And a member's office may be revoked by a majority of the council if the council determines that the member is inadequately performing his or her duties or overstepping the authority of the office. The member is not removed from the governing board.

And those may be any that sounded relevant to information I have been told. I'm -- can turn it over to Director Chavez.

THE CHAIR: All right. Director Chavez. And then if you can also allow the school to

Our vice president is Brenda Atencio. She is from Ohkay Owingeh. She is one of our Native American representatives from the tribe, being that La Tierra sits on Ohkay Owingeh. And then Delisha Gordon-Brown, who is our new secretary. We are delighted to be here. Thank you.

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Thanks for the introductions and welcome.

So, Commissioners, this is a really difficult situation that my staff and I have been addressing over the past several weeks as the school was nearing the end of its fiscal year, and the head administrator had not been offered a contract for the next school year.

Similarly, the board has contacted my -my staff and asked for technical assistance and support, as they were having a retreat and questioning items that there were some disagreement on the board about.

So I think that -- mostly, that there is -- the tension related to disagreement on the board caused a lot of action, several meetings, several calls, several e-mails.

If you are looking in your materials, you will see that Item No. 9 -- and it is posted to the

I know that the items that we are most concerned about are whether or not the school has violated the Open Meetings Act. And although there has been some accusations of that for the way that they hold meetings, we have -- we have asked them to work very closely with their counsel to ensure that they are meeting Open Meetings Act.

One of the things that we can verify is that there is no current annual Open Meetings Act statement on the website. As you know, every year, a board takes action, through a resolution, that says when they will meet, at what time, where, and how the public can gain access. There is one on the website, but it's expired.

So that, I can certainly verify.

As to whether or not there were other violations of Open Meetings Act, I wouldn't pinpoint anything in particular. Maybe our counsel -- if you questions around how do we process financial payments and other school business. So that was disruptive.

However, early on in the fiscal year, I would say -- let's see. We chronicled it here. On July 8th, I held a meeting with the chair at the time, Chair Williams, and Vice Chair Casados, and some other staff members on my team, to let them know how very concerned we were about the fact that they were starting a new school year without a head administrator in place, to let them know that they would be asked to come before the Public Education Commission, and to strongly recommend that they have a head administrator in place by today, which they have put in place.

If you'll look at the notes, you'll see that on the 18th, the board met as scheduled, and they hired a head administrator who's here today.

So that part of the concerns, the vote was consistent with the school's bylaws. We know that the board is the entity that selects the head administrator. And so I don't see an issue there. other than it was late, and it was disruptive to staff, because there was not an identified head administrator in place.

want to go down that road. But, actually, the guidance to the school was they should work closely with their counsel to make sure they're doing that. And I would not say that prior to every meeting, I was checking into their website to verify, you know, the days that their agenda was posted, that sort of thing. When we did, it seemed appropriate.

I attended one of the meetings that they held myself. And I know that there was genuine effort to be concerned about and follow the protocols that are required.

The second item on your agenda talks about the head administrator status for '22-'23, and to ensure that there was a vote consistent with the school bylaws.

The school staff came to us because there was no head administrator slated to be in place by the beginning of the fiscal year. And this -- this caused a lot of uncertainty. And there were other feelings associated with it. And any time there's a transition in staff, there are feelings. There's confusion.

The school was not timely in identifying a head administrator at the beginning of the -- the new fiscal year. And so that did cause some Staff was uncertain how to act without the head administrator. And when I asked what their financial policies and procedures were, there was still some uncertainty. So I think that that's an area that -- I know at the meeting that was held on the 18th, there was a discussion on the board to talk about reviewing policies and procedures to make sure that they were on the up and up, and, hopefully, that there's a contingency plan should the head administrator not be available to direct staff, that there's a -- an alternate signatory on the financial documents that need to be processed.

Item 6 -- I mean C -- for this item talks about notification to the PEC of governing board member changes and confirming the status of training requirements for members.

We did an inventory of board member training. There was a lot of transition on the board. But we were able to document that there was a trend of late submissions. Three board members changed, and we did not get the information in a timely way.

There were incomplete submissions. And we made several requests to the school for those documents for each of those amendments. So I would say that there's a non-compliance trend that the school has exhibited and that we have documented.

I won't go through all of the items, just to say that, you know, my general takeaway is that it felt rather chaotic, that there's disagreement. I was not getting in the middle of the, you know, the personnel issues, respecting the right of the board to make the decision, and nor was I getting in the middle of who should be chair, who should not be chair. That is, again, the -- the actions of the board.

But I do feel like with the last board meeting that is listed here, on the 18th, that I attended, it felt like there was a little bit more -- a little bit more structure that would -- that would be needed for the school to carry forth in a way that it should, following its bylaws, the charter, and -- and the actions that the board should be making.

THE CHAIR: Thank you, Director Chavez. I do want to point out -- I'm going to come to you. I would love to give you all the opportunity to talk. I do want to also point out that we do have Willie Williams online as well. So I'll make sure that Willie is given the opportunity to speak as well. I are able to succeed at every possible opportunity that they can.

As far as the reason why our former Head Learner was not offered a new contract -- and, yeah, thankfully, it's -- it's something that we as a board discussed within executive session -- there were challenges. And we came to a decision that it would best be -- be best for us to move in an alternative direction.

We were in consultation with Missy. We were in consultation with Dylan. We were in consultation with Ms. Chavez, with the assistant deputy director, with our attorney, to make sure that we followed the appropriate measures to ensure that we navigated in a more positive direction.

Our goal is to ensure that, as I said, the -- the vision, that Prairie and Representative Montoya first had when they first envisioned this school is upheld to ensure that Montessori education not only is advanced, but also opens up the door for our students in ways that is -- is pretty impressive.

The board that is now comprised has felt that we had a limitation of information, specifically in the development of our budget, in think you can see me, Willie, and I can see that your hand is up. And I will call on you shortly.

Okay. Mr. Casados, I will pass it over to you.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Well, good morning, Madam Chair. Thank you, Commissioners. So I think we heard an impassioned statement from our former Head Learner previously, and kind of making accusations that lunches were not being fulfilled, that the board has taken an alternative course beyond Montessori. That could be -- led to a former Head Learner who's on her way out.

The board has always focused on the idea of Prairie Boulmier and Representative Roger Montoya's key mission of ensuring that there is a Montessori school within the Greater Española Area that provides opportunity to our students that otherwise they can't get from the Española Public school system. Even though that we are a public school, this provides an opportunity for students who are from marginalized communities.

Just as Commissioner Carrillo said, we have a community that is marginally ethnic, marginally in poverty-stricken conditions. And it is our intentionality to ensure that those students the development of even our charter process. There was not a lot of information that was being given from the former chair to our board.

And in the development of our budget, we have some key issues that we're having now to address with the Mike Vigil Group, our financial manager, to really figure out where were items being spent, how were salaries being inflated to -- in some instances, $90,000. I don't know of any teacher -- my mother was an educator for 37 years and a principal, and had she ever made $90-some thousand dollars a year plus, we'd have some questions.

So the question now is, is our new board has really focused on the idea of how do we build some sort of -- of calmness? How do we ensure that we now give the reins to our new Head Learner, who comes with a world of experience, and be able to provide him the resources, both in bylaw, both in our -- our governing policy, as well as budgetary authority so that he has now the opportunity to provide staff that can accommodate where our students are?

This is a really exciting part is we have now gone from 86 students with a potential of up to

In addition, we've had a number of minority teachers who have now begun to apply to La Tierra because they feel that the environment is now conducive for them to now enter into that environment.

That was one of the areas that, when we were beginning this conversation with Mr. Thompson, I said, you know, "We are in a community that is richly diverse in culture and tradition, that is representative of both Hispanic, Native American, African-American, Caucasian communities. And we need to make sure our teaching staff looks just like our students."

I went to Santa Fe Indian School, and had I not had Native American teachers at the Santa Fe Indian School when I was in high school, I probably would have felt a little out of place.

And so we want to ensure that our school community represents who our student body is. We want to ensure that the curriculum that we are now entrusting with Mr. Thompson through this new instructional plan that was put forth is carried out in a way that is not only sensitive to where not have the time to properly review documents to be able to ask questions. And when we did ask questions, we were hit with resistance immediately, from the previous chair as well as the previous Head Learner.

And as a board member, that was concerning to me, because I was supposed to be making decisions for the betterment of the school, but was not allowed to truly review documents so that I could come prepared and ask any questions that I may have.

And as the board we are now, our last two meetings have been so productive. We have gotten positive feedback from parents, just saying, "That was the best meeting I have seen this board have in the past several months."

And to me, that is so good to hear, because our parents are finally seeing progress. They're finally seeing a board that is willing to work together and move forward together to create a better environment for our students, as well as our staff.

And we did discuss that in this last meeting, that we would love to meet with our staff to sit down and talk to our staff and truly introduce ourselves, because we weren't allowed that

Yazzie/Martinez is today, but ensures that we achieve those ultimate results, because they are in a community of interest where Yazzie/Martinez matters the most.

So with that, I will step back, and I will allow the vice president to go ahead and speak about where her feelings are. And then we can kind of go from there. Thank you. If you would employ -okay, thanks.

THE CHAIR: Yes, please.

MS. BRENDA ATENCIO: Good morning. (Native language spoken). My native language. Thank you for having us here today. I am really excited for the direction that we as a board are now moving towards.

I know that Angela had mentioned about our meeting minutes. If you would look at our meeting minutes for the last several months, you would see the chaos. You would see the chaos within our -our board, and just the fact that we were unable to move forward in a positive way.

And a lot of it was not knowing what was happening at the school, because we were not being informed. We were being told, while in meeting, of certain documents that required approval, and we did

1 before. It almost seemed as if we were being told, 2

"Oh. By the way, we're having an event tonight.

Come if you can."

So a lot of our notices were so last-minute that we really didn't have the opportunity to truly engage.

And I feel the group that we are now, I think we're ready for that. And I'm just thankful for the opportunity to serve La Tierra, because it is a beautiful school. And I know that we can make this school the school that it once was with the board that we currently have in place.

Thank you.

MS. DELISHA GORDON-BROWN: Good morning, everybody. I am Delisha Gordon-Brown recently elected to the Secretary position. I'm still a baby member of the board. I was recruited in November 2011 before I even moved back to New Mexico.

So I joined in January, and, in the process, was downsizing my home, moving back to New Mexico from California. I was recruited for --I'm -- let me go a little back.

Ms. Williams is a family friend. I met her through a family function -- or a function she was holding. And so when I came to this board, I had a little bit of a personal connection through my experience in just the last six months. However, I realize that personal is not the place to keep my feelings in this board. It is very distracting. And that was proven the first couple of months when I realized I was almost being manipulated into making decisions that were not my own.

I came onto this board actually against the two of my cohorts next to me. And it was after our retreat, when I was able to have a "Come to Jesus" moment and let them know what I thought, that we developed a better working and business relationship.

And I realized that manipulation is true, it is strong, and it was evident after seeing that there was so much wrong being done.

I have a finance and accounting background. I have worked in higher education and nonprofit. And I am a very strict steward of public money. I do not like seeing money being mistreated when it's hard-paying -- hard-working taxpayers' money, especially in the education world. And I have questions.

And so with every intention of renewing our former Head Learner's contract two, three months career, starting a brand new job, less than two months ago, and I'm taking a day off to be here, and while I'm pursuing my Master's.

So I am absolutely here for the students. I am here for the school and for the community. Because if this had existed -- if La Tierra had existed 22 years ago, maybe I never left the Valley.

Thank you.

THE CHAIR: Thank you. Actually, before I go to you as the Head Learner, I'm going to go to Ms. Williams next.

Okay. Ms. Williams, the -- you -- the floor is yours.

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Good morning, good morning, good morning. I just want to thank you all for having the opportunity to serve as the school board president of La Tierra Montessori School of the Arts and Sciences.

I came to La Tierra on a fluke. I was at a community event, and Ms. -- the former president asked me did I want to join a school board. I was excited. So I did.

I took all -- all the training and everything. And on the first night we were there, this lady walked past me -- and I looked at her, and ago, I became a mediator between almost, you know, our board and our Head Learner.

I said, "Well, we need this audit. Can we -- we need -- what were we doing?"

"Oh."

We needed her evaluation. I was met with resistance.

I think it became evident at that point that my expertise in finance was going to be a hindrance on what our former Head Learner was trying to accomplish, and red flags came up for me.

It was at that point that I made my own decisions, you know, based on renewing the contract for our Head Learner.

There have been allegations and accusations about our Open Meetings Act being in quorum outside. Because I truly believe in our system, I can say with certainty that that is not the case. I did not have these phone numbers until recently, actually, the last couple of weeks, maybe. And, yeah, I'm -- you know -- earlier today, you heard Ms. Feathers say she was afraid the school was going to no longer be in existence.

I have been in the process of moving, transitioning to a new home, a second part of my

I said, "I wonder if she's going to be on the school board."

And that night, the Head Learner quit, and the board president quit.

The lady that walked in the room was Angela Feathers. We came together. And through the years -- through the years, we built a board.

And I'm very sorry to my board that you all lost faith in me, that you all lost confidence in me. And I was just wondering was it after the K-12 grant? Was it after the pre-K that I begged you all to come and sign to approve? Or was it after the amendment to the charter that I had to beg you all to do?

Or was it that you lost faith when I asked you guys to come once a month to visit the schools? Or was it when I asked you all to get -- work to get information together? Or was it when you lost confidence on the 27th of June when the three of you all walked in there and -- what you all had done was form the quorum outside?

The Open Meetings violation states if you have a five-member board, if three members communicate via e-mail and everything -- I gave you all everything. You all never responded to e-mails.

You all never gave me answers.

When you came in -- I brought almost all of you all in. Where is Mr. Riddick? You never include the two Black board members. What is that about? I need to know.

I really need to know is this how it goes? Because I am a whistleblower. I was informed by the attorney to turn this in to PEC and PED. So everything I have, they have, from e-mails and everything.

So -- and, furthermore, I never met the Head -- the new Head of Schools. I never was included. All I got was the e-mail that there was going to be a meeting with an interim. The next e-mail I got on Saturday was his resume. The next thing I know, we were voting him in. And as far as the parents, they had a petition to remove those three board members.

I am so -- I am so -- I did the best that I could, and I tried, and I brought them on as a team. I don't know where it fell apart. I can't understand it.

And if this is how education -- the children are suffering. The children want a continuum. We had set up a continuum. If they you once again for allowing me to speak.

THE CHAIR: Thank you, Ms. Williams.

All righ

MR. CLIFFORD THOMPSON: I remember the day of July 11th.

THE CHAIR: Can you remind me? Can you introduce yourself again.

MR. CLIFFORD THOMPSON: Certainly. Clifford Thompson, recently retired from the public schools, having been a principal and advocate of New Mexico, and completed my paperwork and sent it to the New Mexico Educational Retirement Board, and headed east to Missouri to see my folks on July the 11th, when I got a call, in Mora, from Mr. Casados to discuss the possibility of an interim -- becoming an Interim Head Learner at La Tierra Montessori.

Well, people, that night, as I drove east into Clayton, the biggest thunderstorm you ever saw, lightning clear across the sky on both sides, sheet lightning, bolt lightning, the -- started pouring.

And I spent the night there in Clayton. And when I woke up the next morning after the rain, it was a beautiful morning in Clayton, New Mexico.

And sitting here thinking this morning, it seems like an apt metaphor for the experience I'm in had've told me that that's what they were going to do June 30th, I would have understood.

I had no idea. I was totally blindsided with no contingency plan. And then on July 1st, I go up to the school, according to the attorney, to get Ms. Feathers' keys. I called Mr. Casados to meet me there. He had strep throat.

I have to go in here once again and deal with this school by myself.

They say I was a Lone Ranger. No, I wasn't. I included them. They chose not to come.

So whatever happens, I appreciated serving La Tierra for the five-year renewal -- the charter renewal contract that we had to work on. And my voice is loud. I am -- I am so glad that they now have a more structured meeting. And I have not talked to them since they removed me as board president.

No one has talked to me. I've gotten e-mails. They went on into finances. They went -- I told them, I told them, I told them. I told them that we would end up right here. What did they do? They removed me.

Now, Isaac, you're the president. I wish you well. I wish the entire board well. And thank now. Perhaps that was a precursor for me.

I thought, in the days that followed July the 11th whether I wanted to wade into what I would be getting into. Been around the block a time or two. I know a storm when I see one.

I sure have taken a fancy to that school, La Tierra Montessori, to the people there, our assistant, the teachers, the proud community. I'm very much going to enjoy my time as long as it is.

As I said, I'm the Interim Head Learner. I believe in the board that hired me. I see them going through difficult times. I was here when the remarks were made earlier.

I have faith in truth and justice. And I wouldn't be here today with the people I'm sitting next to today if I didn't know in my heart that we're on the right course. And as you make your determination this morning, know that we have peace and truth and moving forward with collegial intent. That's what we're doing.

Thank you, ladies and gentlemen.

THE CHAIR: Thank you, Mr. Thompson.

All right. We're going to go to Commissioner questions.

I have Commissioner Voigt, then Commissioner Armijo, and Commissioner Gipson.

 COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Okay. Thank you,
 Madam Chair.

So I have a few that have come up through my reading of the documents and just hearing from the parties here in front of us.

But thanks a lot for being here. I know that chaos and change is difficult. Good things can come out of chaos, I do believe.

So I have some questions about the Montessori status of your school.

With an Interim Head Administrator, or a Head Learner coming on, Mr. Thompson, do you have a Montessori background or a licensure?

MR. CLIFFORD THOMPSON: I don't, Madam -- Voigt. I do --

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Oh, there's a mic up there. It just steps in.

MR. CLIFFORD THOMPSON: I do have, hot off the presses, The Child Is The Teacher, a biography of Maria Montessori. Checked that out from the (incomprehensible) last night. I'm immersed in learning about her. I learned about her as an undergrad at the University of Missouri. I'm a program in Austin, Texas.

So we're excited to be able to allow Mr. Thompson to make that decision where he sees her fit and where we can continue to provide that key nugget of educational quality that La Tierra has been come to know.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Super. I'm really glad and appreciative to hear that you value your roots, which are in that Montessori learning. It's such a -- it's such a great curriculum. It's wonderful.

I taught at a Montessori school myself in Tokyo. It's really a big thing in Asia, more in other countries than here. So I'm glad to see it in Española.

Have you all completed all of your board training?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So I have the great fortune of working with Representative Roger Montoya. So me, personally, as a member, he's an adviser member of LESC. So we get to take a number of the key trainings that otherwise are required outside of -- through the legislative process.

I am required, because of his chief of staff, to take all the necessary training that he believer in the vision of the school.

And the answer to your question is no. I'm on the road to getting as many certified and qualified leaders with me to help.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Super. Thank you so much.

So my follow-up question to the board would be, with Mr. Thompson as the interim, do you have plans for pursuing, or do you have an open position status for a permanent Head Learner?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: I think that is why we moved to not only allowing Mr. Thompson to have a one-year contract, but to begin the process of ensuring that we are able to find a qualified -- and it may very well be Mr. Thompson long-term.

To speak to the Montessori perspective, I can't really go into the personnel side of things. But I can tell you we have had some key discussions with individuals in Montessori and a potential that the former cofounder of La Tierra, who has now returned back from China, will return to La Tierra as a Montessori figure within that school environment.

She comes with over 35 years of Montessori passion, instruction. She has created schools in Africa and in China. She just recently finished a would take, which is pretty much a requirement of every legislator, to ensure that we are in compliance not only with ethics, Open Meetings, education, just to ensure that there is a clarity of response so that when I'm positioned to make a determination, or I have to draft a letter, it's not outside of the compliance of what we need to do physically.

Brenda was able to complete her training requirements. I believe there was a training the last week or week and a half prior to the end of the -- of the term. She did attend that, and they did provide her with that. And that was supposed to be updated. And Delisha?

MS. DELISHA GORDON-BROWN: Being a board member, I completed my initial training in January, and I started a new job. And so I am actually out of compliance about three hours, I think. I have worked with Dylan. I have apologized. And I think, moving forward -- part of my calendar of events for the board moving forward is getting us all the training in advance, doing working sessions with our trainings, and even our retreat with our training, so we can knock them out as a board together and make sure we stay in compliance.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Super. Thank you.
And so, Mr. Casados, does your LESC training transition as -- to governing board training, for charter school governing board training?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: That's a question we had for Missy. I sent pretty much all of the trainings that --

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Does his LESC training transition to charter school governing board training hours?

MS. MISSY BROWN: I'm still in the process of reviewing all of those things. It's a busy time of year. And I'd like to correct. Delisha has completed nine of the required ten hours. So she's -- she's that close.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Okay. Super. That's awesome that you're working on that.

Ms. Williams, did you -- were you responding to one of my questions? Or was your hand still up?

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: No. I was responding to my board. I was also -- because I wasn't -- at one point, as I stated with the board, I told them time and time again that we needed to do maybe would have one parent from the PTSO that would attend.

Now we're averaging anywhere from five to ten parents. And it's an exciting time period, because -- it's an exciting time period for us, because we really want to ensure that the parents have an opportunity to participate.

We have gotten a number of e-mails and, now, inquiries saying, "How can we become involved? How can we potentially look at entering this board so that we can add our expertise to this board?"

And it's something that is exciting for us, because they felt prior that they weren't involved as much as they needed to be, where information similar to the board not necessarily getting updates? It was almost similar to our parents, where they were kind of stuck in limbo.

So the goal that we have kind of set out is a board newsletter out to the parents so that they can understand specific votes that we have taken. They can understand budget issues that we are -- we are resolving. Because, for me, information is key. If you don't have constant communication and information being absorbed by the community, then we're doing a disservice to our our training.

I submitted -- I was -- I'm not sure if
Ms. Brown got all my hours when I went to the New Mexico School Board Association conference, where I attended at least three to four conference sessions. So I don't know if my hours are complete yet, or am I still included, because I just need to know, because a lot of things, I'm not included in.
I just need to know.

MS. MELISSA BROWN: So I was able to review the additional trainings that Ms. Williams went to. Unfortunately, none of them fulfilled the three hours of fiscal or the two hours of academic. So, whereas, she completed seven hours total, most of them were duplicating Open Governance Ethics and Responsibilities and Equity.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Okay. Thank you. MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Okay. Thank you. COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Thanks.

Approximately -- during this transition in your governing board meetings, how many parents or community members were able to attend your meetings?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: That's a great question. You know, prior to the new board taking over, we had very little parent interaction. We community.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Sure. I think especially during a time of change, as much transparency as you can lead with will be the best, especially in times of uncertainty in going forward. Your parents are your stakeholders, and, of course, they want to be vested and have their voices heard.

So it would really behoove you to really have that ear for them and then action to follow up with, because words don't go very far if they're just dropped off the cliff, you know.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Correct.
COMMISSIONER VOIGT: So that's good to hear.

In looking at your board minutes from June 27th, there were, I think, 11 or 12 items on that agenda. Five of them were tabled. So that, I just want to affirm chaos, uncertainty, not knowing, you know. And that was exemplified within those board minutes.

On your June 30th board minutes, there was a line that said that you -- that your board has never voted to approve a financial report. I don't know if that's true or not. I'm just saying -- but you know what? Yeah, that's something that your board should always vote to approve and have that roll call or, "All in favor of, say aye," type of acknowledgment for your financial reports. That's a hands down, you've got to do that -- okay? -- at your board meetings.

And so it was stated in those minutes that that had never been done. So that was kind of alarming to read.

And then, also, of course -- of course, you know that your staff -- the school staff would never report to the board. That's what your -- that's what Mr. Thompson's for. And you know that. And, Mr. Thompson, you know that. Okay.

So there was mention of an instructional plan. Could you, without going into minutiae, kind of give me the highlights of that instructional plan going forward?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Actually, that has never been shared with us. I learned about it yesterday.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Who has it?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Apparently, there was dividual that Mr. Footbors had bised prior to an individual that Ms. Feathers had hired prior to her departure on June 24th that had completed an instructional plan. That was presented to PED. We, THE CHAIR: Right. That transparency and communication again. Okay.

Thank you. That's all I have for now.Appreciate it.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you so much. THE CHAIR: Ms. Williams, would you like to respond to one of those questions?

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Yes, I would. Yes, I'm -- in discussion of the parental part. As you all may or may not know, I have a very strong background in parent involvement. I was -- the parents were very much involved in all the things that occurred last year.

Parts of the board were there. As far as meetings, the reason why the parents are on the meeting and the community, they want to know in what direction their school is going.

We had -- as we worked -- I'd say the board, because we were the governing council -- at least I thought we were -- we were working for enrollment in Montessori. That's what we worked for. As you can see, as the school year is coming, we have more students coming in.

That's from talking, I believe, in the community, and I believe the parents. I would never as a board, never saw it.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: So it's null and void then.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Well, it's been approved by the PED. It's something that, as Mr. Thompson and I were talking to Mr. Lange yesterday, I said, "We need to be able to see that report, because it's really the board" --

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Most importantly, Mr. Thompson should see that report.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Correct. Correct. COMMISSIONER VOIGT: And Mr. Thompson should share that with you, and, of course, share it with your community and stakeholders. The answer to my question is you don't have it?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: We don't have that. It was supposed to be pulled -- an e-mail was to go out to Mr. Lange or to the director to pull that information. But it is something, because we need to be accountable. If we are being asked a question, where there is a plan or an instructional plan in place, and two stakeholders -- the former Head Learner and her assistant, knew what that plan was, but the board wasn't informed, then we have some key issues.

mislead the parents.

And one of the things I did do while I was in Nebraska was I formed a parent coalition, and we had a parent forum with the United States Department of Education.

So I am a liaison. And I don't understand this. I see where this is going. But I don't understand, when we have laws, how are people above the law? How are people doing things -- stepping into finances, stepping into personnel, stepping into all this, and it's okay? But it's okay to get rid of me when I made noise about it, or I get a little loud because you're not listening, or you don't adhere, that we would wind up here if we didn't adhere.

So all I'm saying is that I did my best. And all of these things, if you ask the parents, if you stood these board members up together and ask the parents who's who, allow them to speak, because they are our major stakeholders. So that's all I have to say.

COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Can I go next? THE CHAIR: Yes. Commissioner Armijo. COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Thank you. I just have a question -- I believe her name was Delisha, the Secretary. MS. DELISHA GORDON-BROWN: You pronounced COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Thanks. You said you joined the board in 2011. COMMISSIONER MANIS: No. I was essentially recruited when I met Ms. Williams in January 2011. I did not join until January of 2022 -- January? February? I think it was January COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: So you hadn't been on the board until you joined. I was a little confused, because you said you were a baby board member. I heard that.

Okay. Thank you.

My second question is for the new president, Mr. Casados.

was my first meeting, and I joined in.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Yes, ma'am. Go ahead. COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: I think I heard that you were astonished when you all heard that the Head Learner was making $90,000 a year?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: The Head Learner was making about $98,000 a year, with benefits and with retirement, we're looking somewhere in the neighborhood of about $114,000 for 86 students.

Ms. Feathers.

So these issues have been ongoing for quite some time. It's not as though Ms. Feathers was put in an environment where she was just ceremoniously removed. There was a prior board that had deep concerns and challenges.

And when it came to fiduciary issues, we also have some contracts now that Mr. Thompson is having to review that stick a teacher's salary in the neighborhood of $86,000 to almost $90,000. And we can't figure out how that number was ever come to. It was just some random number that was kind of thrown out.

So those are the things that he's done very, very well in the last couple of days, trying to mitigate that.

But as stewards of public money, as individuals who are vested with this budget, it is our requirement to ensure that we are spending every dollar accurately, because we cannot have inflated salaries that are, in some instances, 1 to 2 percent higher than everybody else across the board.

COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: And on an interim level, what are you paying Mr. Thompson?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Mr. Thompson has been

COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: And how many students are at the school again? Remind me, please.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: And I believe that's where a lot of our contention really came into play was as fiduciary agents of taxpayer dollars.

COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Correct.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: When we -- that's where the first breakdown really began. This was prior, when I first came onto the board, when Ms. Larsen was the president of the board, we were essentially put in a position to give the Head Learner a raise. And it was an $8,000 raise. She was asking for a $100,000 contract at that point, essentially putting the board in a position where, "Either you hire me, or I walk."

And a lot of us were stuck in this position where we felt it was quite unproductive.

The former board, with Amy and her group, was actually looking at removing Ms. Feathers at that point.

So this was back in 2021. And it was myself, Brenda Atencio, Willie Williams, and Tara -- not Tara -- what was the name? -- there was another board member who actually voted to retain

1 offered a contract at the same level we had already scheduled. So it was $96,300. That would be

3 commensurate with the potential of 115 students

4 coming on board to La Tierra and would put him in

5 that same level. Because we wanted to make a salary

6 schedule, because he shares a lot of similar qualities as a superintendent. He's about $30,000

8 to $25,000 less than what somebody at Española

Public School System or Los Alamos or someone in other competing areas would be.

COMMISSIONER ARMIJO: Thank you for that. I think that's all I have. Thank you.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you so much, Commissioner.

THE CHAIR: All right. Commissioner Gipson.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Thanks. Some of my questions have already been answered. So I'm going to try to go through.

In regards to OMA violations -- I'm just checking. I'm not getting into the (indicates) about all of it. But I'm just checking, because your bylaws do indicate that in order for a board officer to be removed from the office position, there has to be a vote for a dereliction of duty.

Did that vote take place? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Yes, the vote took place last week. COMMISSIONER GIPSON: When did it take place? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: It took place on the 14th of July. COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Of July. Okay. Thanks. And I know Commissioner Voigt mentioned that, clearly, telling staff that they report to the board is inappropriate, you know. So --MR. ISAAC CASADOS: And to speak to that, Commissioner, we have given Mr. Thompson that clear duty. There have been instances within the board where staff members have asked us, and we said, "That is not our purview. That will be left up to the future Head Learner." And now Mr. Thompson is the one who makes those decisions. COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay. Thanks. During this time, has the board at any time fallen below the five members? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Prior to 2021, yes, we

If your bylaws say you're going to have nine, you run into trouble all the time.

If you say, "We're going to have at least five," you can have as many as you want. But if you keep to that, "We're going to have nine," then you're violating your bylaws if you can't fill it.

So it's like this double-edged sword. I appreciate the fact that you want to build out capacity on a board. But you want to be careful that you're not setting yourself up for failure, and you're going to -- someone resigns, and now you're violating your bylaws.

So that's -- that's just that cautionary tale that we've seen with schools. So just -- it can be a slippery slope.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you for that. I appreciate that. That's one of the areas that I believe our board is really focused in on is really working sessions. We have reached out to Missy Brown, our attorney, to say, you know, "We need to comprise a number of meetings to ensure that our bylaws are not ambiguous. We need to also make sure that there's clarity in the bylaws."

And that has been a discussion that we've also had with Missy, because she's looked at some of

of the board, so that puts us at five.

Our goal is -- and this is one of my clear goals -- is to ensure that we are up to our nine or ten -- actually, our bylaws call for ten members of the board.

were at four members. Mr. Riddick is now a member

And I think that is important to me to be able to bring on educators. That was one of the clear deficiencies that our board has had is that we do not have educators. I can't speak for my mother's knowledge and what she has. I can only speak to what I perceived or saw her deal with over 35 years.

And that has been a conversational piece, where we have two or three other individuals that have already expressed interest, plus parents already stepping forward saying, "Hey, we would love to be a part of this board because we want a participatory part moving forward."

So our goal within the next two months is to have a full board of nine. So it'll be the first time, really, in our history, probably for the last two and a half years, three years, that we would have a full sitting board. That's our goal.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: I'm just going to give you a personal perspective.

our bylaws that have said, "There are some of those things in here that are a little bit challenging."

A lot of those were written before we came on. Our goal is really to refine them, to define them. Brenda comes with a background in law. So that helps us to be able to codify bylaws that are clearer, have clearer expectations, so that there is not any ambiguity when we are having to act on a specific issue.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Yeah, I appreciate that. It's a work in progress, always.

MS. MELISSA BROWN: I'd like the record to reflect that I am not the school's attorney. That would be Patty Matthews.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Patty Matthews, our attorney. Sorry.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Gipson, before you go to the next question, Deputy Director Russell has a -- had had her hand up I think in response to something. So I want to --

DR. BRIGETTE RUSSELL: Yes. Chair Burt and Commissioners, I just wanted to clarify that Ms. Williams was removed as board chair at the July 12th meeting, not July 14th. I was not present at that meeting, but I read the minutes. And from

86 my reading of the minutes, there was nothing about 1 in that. 2 dereliction of duty in -- in that discussion.

Ms. Williams was encouraged by at least one other board member to remain on the board. And she was removed as chair and Mr. Casados voted in. But I saw nothing in the meetings indicating dereliction of duty.

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: The dereliction of duty, yes.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: I don't want a discussion about was she -- I'm not looking at a discussion on was she derelict in her duty. Thank you. My tongue got tied. I don't want that. I just want a discussion on was that the vote? That's all.

THE CHAIR: So I think, Ms. Williams, that we have that answer, that there was not.

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Thank you. DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Or at least it wasn't captured in the minutes.

THE CHAIR: It wasn't captured in the minutes. So if there is anything different, then

I just want an assertion that either the vote was taken according to what the bylaws say an officer can be removed for or not, that plain and simple. I'm not looking in the details of what it was. I just need an assertion that that's what it was and that we should have minutes -- or do you tape? Do you record?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So we would have a recording to show that. I just need that assertion.

THE CHAIR: Okay. Thank you.

13 MR. ISAAC CASADOS: We do. So under -- so 14 the removal section is Section 3.7 of our bylaws. 15 It actually states that a member can be removed with 16 two-thirds of the governing counsel vote. 17

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay. All right. MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: I just have a question. Is it supposed to be publicly -- is it

21 MR. ISAAC CASADOS: It was noticed. 22 COMMISSIONER GIPSON: This was a special 23 supposed to be noticed? That's all I ask.

there was not that.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: An issue -- so we had called a special meeting. So there were two members that had called a special meeting. I had been contacted individually by both members. I drafted a letter in order to ensure that we were not in violation of the Open Meetings Act. I sent the letter to them via DocuSign.

No discussion was had. They either had the opportunity to sign onto the letter or not.

In that letter that we issued to Ms. Williams, it did state key issues and key findings. The first issue was that she was creating a disruptive board environment. Our bylaws do state that that provision can be -- that an individual can be removed for creating a disruptive environment.

The second part of that was that there were questionable purchase orders that were issued to friends of hers outside the board --

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So I'm sorry. I --THE CHAIR: Yeah. Please, if you could clarify your question.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: We're getting into detail of what the der- -- that's not what I'm -honestly, no offense to anyone. I'm not interested

1 THE CHAIR: I'm going to go back to 2 Commissioner Gipson for your next question.

> COMMISSIONER GIPSON: My question pertains to that now. According to the bylaws, can anyone check who can call a special meeting? Can just a member?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Two board members or the governing president.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay. All right. Thanks on that. So thanks.

Then my -- so then I guess my follow-up -did you ever fall below five, the answer was yes. Was that notice to CSD that you've -- because you lose your Board of Finance when you fall below five.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Correct. That would have to be a question to Ms. Williams. She was the president at that point.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: And Missy should be able to check that as well.

20 MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Yes, we did. We 21 fell below five for a while.

22 COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Was there notice to 23 us as a --

> MS. MELISSA BROWN: Dylan Wilson is the one who keeps that record. And I know that we were -- we did not get the correct paperwork on all the new board members in a timely manner.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So are all the new -- are all the board members now, do they have their Board of Finance documentation in?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Yes. That was sent -for the new board that has been comprised, we all signed that document as of Monday. So Dylan does have a copy of that. He made reference to that two days ago that he received that copy.

MS. MELISSA BROWN: And Dylan just affirmed that with me.

THE CHAIR: Can I ask a question? Who was on the board as of June 1st, and who is on the board now? Is it the same people?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: It is the same people now, currently.

THE CHAIR: So there has not been less than five members on the board.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Since January of 2021, correct.

22 MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: No, it was prior, 23 to -- 24 MR. ISAAC CASADOS: 2022. I'm sorry.

25 Yes.

salary is not out of line. I mean, it's not.
 Teacher's salary, that's a whole different story.

I got confused, because at times we were moving to teacher's salary, and there was a -- there seemed to be a concern about the head admin's salary.

But my question is, has there been a Board of Finance -- has there been a finance subcommittee of the board? Have they met regularly, and have they provided reports to the board that the board has then voted to approve the Board of Finance report?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So the finance committee meets at 4:30 prior to every major governing council meeting. So all of our finance meetings -- I've sat on that committee, as well as Ms. Williams. We have Ryan Fox from the Vigil Group. Angela Feathers was on, and then Maitai who was our office manager. Those five comprised that committee.

One of the biggest challenges -- and I -- I was the unruly person on that committee, because I felt that there was information that was being placed inside that budget, questionable purchase orders, issues where the board was not involved in a working session to develop the budget.

THE CHAIR: So in the past -- since June 1st to today, there have been five board members, and they are the same five board members.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Charlie Riddick is our newest board member. And he came on right before we went into charter renewal.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Amy Larsen left right around January.

THE CHAIR: That's okay. For what we're talking about today, that's -- I'm trying -- I was, like -- COMMISSIONER GIPSON: I know.

THE CHAIR: So, Commissioner Gipson, back to you. Sorry about that.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Yeah, I know, because I'm trying to navigate were there any notices that were missing.

So in regards to the development of the budget, there was a statement that was made that there was a lack of information being given to the board. Salaries weren't disclosed.

I'm just going to say -- not getting into personnel issues. But the head administrator's

We received the budget, as a committee member of that finance committee, three hours before we are supposed to take a vote on it.

That is deeply troubling to me, because it doesn't give us a clear idea where we're moving forward in the financial realm. We are tasked with that goal. Not the head administrator, not the Vigil Group. And that is one of the key questions that we are having tomorrow with the Vigil Group is why was that never done?

Why were we never consulted in that process? Because now we have issues where potential personnel were brought on, which is in violation -- potentially in violation of the New Mexico State Finance -- School Finance Act. And we're now having to go through that parameter of trying to figure out, okay, was that ever a byline item within our budget.

The good news is Mr. Thompson has helped to mitigate some of these challenges very quickly. But I think, moving forward, our -- our main concern is ensuring that if our budget is $1.1 million, that we are not paying someone $120,000, $130,000, $160,000, which, at one time, there was a specific

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So let me just ask you on that. So your assertion on the violation on the New Mexico Finance Act was because the salary was out of line with --

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: It was never stipulated within the budget.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So what we're looking at, a position was created. You're taking a budgetary finance authorization from another area trying to now move it up into operational. And with our staffing, you can't do that. It needs to -- you have to have a BAR that the board approves to be able to move those finances within our budget.

And so that is one of the things that we have expressed with Mr. Thompson is any future positions that he intends -- we want to make sure that we submit the BAR, that we place it within our budget, so that we don't have any of these issues moving forward. That's an important aspect.

And thank God we have Delisha, who comes with a world of experience with the University of idea where these are coming from. With the State raises, the teachers' salaries were increased.

But if -- as you go, our budget was fantastic. There was no problem. And I made Ryan -- I asked Ryan to state that in the meeting. So if you go to the minute meetings (verbatim), we were (incomprehensible due to audio distortion) and doing well. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Thank you.

So along with the approval of the budget process, charter schools and school districts are required to have public meetings regarding the budget, so that the public is aware of what that budget is before the board or governance council approves the budget.

Were those public meetings held? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: No. So the budget, as I said, was presented to the board through --MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Yes, they were held. MR. ISAAC CASADOS: No, they were not. They were -- we received a budget that was compiled by the former Head Learner and Ryan Fox and Mike fine."

California. That was her job. It was ensuring that the budgets are accurate and are transparent, so that if we are ever asked, why was this money spent, we can now go back and say, with confidence, "We gave authority to do that."

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay. So --THE CHAIR: Commissioner, before you go to your next question, Ms. Williams did raise her hand about this one.

Ms. Williams?

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: Thank you very much. As part of the finance committee, Isaac and I, Maitai and the Vigil Group and Ms. Feathers met regularly before the meeting. If you go to the meeting on the 27th, Vigil Group states there were no problems with the budget. He informed us. Ryan gave us an in-service, all you have to do is go to the meeting minutes.

We were informed of the budget. We approved the budget with salaries included. I'm not here to dispute anything. I'm just here to (incomprehensible due to audio distortion) on the truth and honesty.

We approved all of that as the finance committee and as the governing council. I have no

Well, the part of this process is, is this is a transparent process, where not only the board, but the public must be involved, because these are taxpayer dollars. And that has been one of the statements I have made continually is when you have someone that comes from a private school environment where it is -- someone is paying for service, and you go -- now go into the public school system, it is a very different monster. We are now obligated to ensure that every dollar and cent that taxpayer dollars are being used are now being accounted for in every single purpose.

So that was the challenge that we received is there was no interaction from the Vigil Group and Angela when they were developing their budget. That should have never happened. We should have been working on this two to three weeks prior, having an actual meeting with the public, and then voting on

But it was dropped on our laps about three hours prior to the start, because it needed to get to PED so that they could approve that budget. And it was added to the agenda as an action item by Ms. Williams the day of the meeting, which is a violation of the Open Meetings Act.

You mentioned before that you had an instructional plan, and that the instructional plan had been approved by PED and that it had been submitted sometime in June. Are you referring to the ed plan that had to be submitted as part of the budget process? Is that the -- is that the instructional plan you're referring to?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: I talked to Mr. Lange yesterday. He talked about it being attached to the charter renewal process as an instructional plan. That's how he explained it to us yesterday.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: But if that was only submitted in June, that would not be appropriate. So I'm just wondering what that instructional plan is and where it went in PED and who approved it in PED. That, I'm not quite --

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So he called it a DASH Plan as well.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Oh. okav. MR. ISAAC CASADOS: He referred to instructional/DASH.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: That's kind of more like an action plan for -- yeah. But that's --

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Carrillo.

2 COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Thank you. Thank 3 you all for being here.

So I'll just start by saying -- and I think you started by saying this as well, Mr. Casados. It's invaluable to have a Montessori

7 in the Española Valley. To be able to have 8 Montessori for free in this community, I think, is

9 essential. And I think that you and Public

10 Education Commission and all of us need to do everything within -- everything reasonable to make 12 sure that nothing happens to that school.

> But even more importantly within that, that it remains a school with fidelity to Montessori. So I have a lot of concerns about that, given what's going on.

I can say also that in December --December is renewal time; right? Is that when we did all that? Everything is a blur sometimes.

I can say that if any of this -- if there was all this kind of mucky-muck in December, there is no way there would have been a renewal without conditions, okay? If we had seen all of this stuff on the horizon, this amazing discord among people and their ability to work together, just reading --

1 that's a whole different animal. So now we know. 2 So now I got it clear. So -- because I was just, 3 like, where did this go? What -- so, yeah. Okay. 4 Got that. We're clear on that. So we know what 5 that is.

> And that will actually ultimately help to inform us as to how the school is going, your process in that DASH Plan. So I think it's really great for the school. So I kind of look at it as punitive, but it can really help the school create targets, stay on track.

So I would strongly recommend that the governing council look at that DASH Plan and know what it is so that you have questions of the Head Learner as you go through this school year as to where you -- you are with this and where are the successes on it, because that's going to help inform you.

And it should help inform you with where you're spending your instructional dollars. So I think it's really important. And thanks for that.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you for that, Commissioner. I appreciate it.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay. Thanks. I'm done for now. Thanks.

the ability to work together, I would say that there would have definitely been conditions.

First thing I want to address is something that Chair -- Vice Chair Voigt had commented on relative to the public and relative to transparency.

So I've looked at your meeting minutes, and I've looked at your agendas. And, honestly, just from my experience on the Santa Fe Public Schools board -- and we won Board of the Year -- I mean, we were, like -- it was just amazing. It was an amazing experience because of the way we followed the letter of the law.

And they would -- our attorney for the board -- separate, of course, from the attorney for the district -- made sure of it. There were never these issues or mistakes made, never issues relative to how or when an agenda was posted, never an issue as to who calls a special -- I mean, none of that.

And we can say -- and the reason is we weren't special. We just really had -- we had Gino Zamora, who is probably one of the foremost experts on Open Meetings Act in the state. And he was -happened to be not only the district attorney for a time, but the board attorney. Education. Not just of the kids, but of you, to make sure you're doing all these things correctly.

So I don't blame past boards. I don't blame you. I would say that there are a lot of decisions that were made in June, and that if somebody really wanted to go to the mattresses, they could go to the AG, you might have all those decisions overturned because of the way these things were posted and the way they were voted on.

And this is -- I'm getting this from the minutes. So I haven't seen a video of anything yet, which, as a side note, Brenda, I believe -- because you're the one that handles it? I would get access, YouTube or whatever you need to do, so that people have -- because you're not a transcriber. These minutes aren't transcribed. And that's super expensive. I'm not suggesting that, especially for a smaller charter.

But having something -- having something from a meeting posted immediately, or within that ten days, I think is just essential. Because the minutes here don't give you a full sense of the dialogue, the back and forth.

What I got a sense of looking at these minutes was the chaos and nobody really kind of really understanding honestly even how to set up an in advance, just like the posting.

The thing that I mentioned with Ms. Voigt, you have public -- this is just a little thing that you can fix like that. (Indicates.) Public comment should go at the beginning of an agenda, never at the end. People come to a meeting to comment on what's on the agenda.

But now your meeting is over, and they don't know how long your meeting is going to last, so they don't know if they've got to be there, and then they've got to put dinner on the table.

If you put public comment on first, I promise you, you'll have a lot more parents and even community members at your meetings, because they'll take an interest. They know they'll be heard, they'll be heard early, and they can comment.

What is a good practice, I believe, is to not -- to allow them to comment on things that are not -- on things that are not only on the current agenda, maybe something that's coming up or whatever it might be. I personally think there -- the more public input, the better; the more transparency, the better. Right?

And that goes to one of these -- I think it was the 27th or the 30th, there was a gentleman agenda.

So I'm looking at the 27th, and I'm looking at the 30th. And I'm not proposing in any way to go backward. I'm proposing that everyone get the tools they need to do the best they can to make this school the best it can be.

I don't like the idea of going to the AG and nullifying decisions. That's just going to make a bigger mess. And, really, that kind of punitive action, is it really necessary? And for me, personally, no, because there's nothing that's that egregious.

The budget item that was discussed, you know, that stuff has to be -- everything you do -- it's not a private school; right? You had mentioned that. Everything you do is public. That budget you're talking about voting on three days, that has to be posted, along with all of your meeting material, 72 hours in advance. You can't just spring these things on the public. And that way, they have a chance to look at it and say, "Whoa." You know, they're very concerned about something.

So anything you've got on the agenda and you have meeting materials, those things have to be available to anyone that wants to have them 72 hours named "Forrest" who spoke, and -- as public comment. But then there was a back-and-forth and a back-and-forth and a back-and-forth.

You can't do that, okay? Then it needs to be on the agenda as a discussion item for next time. And there's all this language -- and I'm sure that Patty's got it, or Sue Fox has it, that says, "You know, we're commenting on these things. Please be aware that the board cannot comment on issues raised in public comment, because, otherwise, they rise to the level of a discussion item. But we will consider putting it on the agenda another time."

There's all of these practices that I promise you, if you start to honestly tune into a Santa Fe meeting and you just start to make them a part of your everyday meetings, it's just -- they go so darn smoothly, and you don't bicker -- you know, it's just -- it's great. If you disagree, you can do all that stuff. But they go really smoothly.

So as I'm looking through these minutes, the 27th and the 30th, the thing that's glaring to me is this going in and out of executive session, whether a vote is taken to go in, whether the vote is taken to come out, the nonchalance with which you seem to just recess in executive section but not notifying to the public that you're recessing.

So all these things are just part of that bigger issue about really training; right? Because there's something here that says "Adjourned," but then afterward, it says you're going into your quorum, your executive session quorum. And it says that after you've adjourned.

If I'm a member of the public, like, what the heck, you know. And so just -- and things even being on exec. You have something here that's on exec and it says board communication. That's not eligible for exec, okay? Just not.

When you -- and I -- I purposely brought my Open Meetings Act to the meeting today. And I would honestly just download it and all of you have a copy, you as well. Are you a Cliff or Clifford?

MR. CLIFFORD THOMPSON: Either way.
COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Or do you want to be Mr. Thompson. How about CT?

MR. CLIFFORD THOMPSON: That'll work, too.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: And, yeah, just really thoroughly read this. Patty is brilliant.

Both of your counsel are amazing. So it's just being what can even go on exec. I'm concerned.

It's past. But I'm concerned -- it's --

1 a Montessori head administrator. Right.

So that being the case, what steps are you taking for all -- you mentioned making sure that the staff at the school looks like the community it's serving. That's super hard to do, just in general in any circumstance. And so what are your plans specifically in terms of on-boarding these new people to make sure they're on the Montessori way quickly?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: I think in the next couple of weeks, we will -- probably by next week, we will have that solution solved. I can tell you with certainty a former coauthor or cofounder who has that instruction in Montessori education is looking at coming to La Tierra.

I can't really get into it, because that's going to be his call on where he sees her direct role. But in the conversations that they have had, the clear idea is for her to help the staff. Because a majority of our staff are not certified in Montessori education. They have to be taught those specific ideologies. And she will help them, onboard them, and make sure there's applicability in that process, and make sure there's adherence to what those principles are.

let me try that again. It's your board. It's your board. You can -- if you want to be in the mucky-muck, that's your decision. If you want to get along, great, and be really transparent, that's your decision. And our decision is to maybe help you as best we can. I know Missy is a wonderful resource for all of this.

I'm concerned about -- I kept hearing "change of direction" of the school. Can you assure me here today you are going to be -- you're going to have super fidelity to the Montessori model?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Commissioner, I can tell you with 100 percent certainty, even beyond that, that we will. And it is -- as I said, there's a personnel opportunity that's coming down the pipeline that will address all of these issues.

And when Mr. Thompson is officially introduced to the board, I mean, to the board next meeting, he will be able to speak about what that new hire looks like and her role moving forward.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Okay. So what is your plan on bringing on -- I know it's a small staff. And so -- and so Mr. Thompson is not, right now -- you're learning as much as you can as quickly as you can, but you're not, we'll say, certified as COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Thank you. I was under the impression that maybe a greater percentage of your teachers were Montessori certified than I am hearing right this minute. Pattie, do you have --

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: I was just going to say. I thought at renewal, we had that discussion. And I thought there was -- and I'm not meaning to interrupt you -- but that there was, you know -- I thought there was.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: I believe they had received training, but they were not certified in Montessori. Correct.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Okay.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: So that's something, obviously, if you're having that specific program, that we're going to want to look to. I'm looking at my notes on the meetings on the 27th and the 30th.

You know, you're going off into a board retreat. What does that mean to the public?

Just -- you know, there's -- I'm not going to beat this horse. Just learn it. There are so many people that are experts at this.

And on the next -- you might want to -- oh. In December, I think that NMSBA, that's when

I know that Joe -- I think there's some reciprocity, where maybe you can attend something down there. Maybe you can get credit for it; I don't know. If you can go to any training by Tony and Gino, you're there, because they are the foremost experts in the state.

And even just, you know, Zoom in if you have to, or attend a meeting. I wouldn't say Albuquerque. Honestly, I would say Santa Fe, if you want to look at an agenda and see how well it's run.

So that's it. My suggestion is probably going to be, at the end of this, that there be -and it's not punitive. But that there be a Letter of Concern to make sure that you're taking care of the issues that are being raised.

And, you know -- and that'll be really thorough. And then you'll have 30 days in which to do this and 30 days in which to do that, and you'll just want to see that progress, because I think all of us were stunned where we are today, given where we couldn't necessarily move in that fashion.

2 COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: So on that --

MS. WILLIE WILLIAMS: May I just say something, please?

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: That leaves you with five board members; is that correct?

we were in December when we renewed, because this is just, like -- so I appreciate your all being here. And that's all for now.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you Commissioner. And I think a lot of our key challenges really focus down to the issue of Robert's Rules of Order. If you don't know how to function a specific meeting from start to finish, that's where the ambiguity comes in.

And when you allow individuals to interject, such as staff members or the public in the middle of a board discussion, that's a key issue, because then this moves a board meeting from an hour to three and a half hours, four hours, five hours. And now we're stuck in a position where nothing has been done. Hot heads prevail during those type of meetings; whereas, the public is given an opportunity to speak, our teachers are given the opportunity to speak. We do not comment. We do not make a statement on that.

And if it's an issue that we bring to the agenda for the following meeting, those are kind of some of those key areas.

And we tried very hard to adhere to those processes. But I wasn't the chair at that time. So

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Which can be solved by tomorrow -- or this afternoon. So -- COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I'm sorry to hear that. It is what it is.

So Robert's Rules of Order is a funny thing. We've all heard of it. We've all heard, "No, motion to this." "Table that." "You can't talk now." "I call the question." But there is a -- don't get so hung up on that, okay?

Because sometimes it's, like, if somebody really wants to -- you know, "Point of order." "I want to speak to that issue." It's just -- more than anything, it's having a chair that controls the meeting, so the public is super duper aware of their dos and don'ts. And when it's a don't, it's a don't, and they're done.

And once you start -- once people get used to that, it's going to be really great.

And, you know, not interrupting each other -- but there is a point of order -- or a point of clarification. But sometimes people get so hung up on the minutiae of Roberts Rules of Order that it becomes a hindrance and will make your meetings longer.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you, Commissioner. I appreciate that. COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Anything I can do to help you all. Seriously. THE CHAIR: Commissioner Robbins. COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Thank you. You mentioned your bylaws say you're supposed to have ten? Or five to ten? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So up to -- we are required to have five, up to ten. COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: So that's what your bylaws say? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So our policies and procedures say ten. Our bylaws say nine. So we're going to have to -- that's why we're going to have to go back and modify. COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Is it up to, or is it a definitive number? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Up to. COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Okay. That's fine. And that's minimum of five and up to whatever number you feel is appropriate. That's great. Who elects your general council members? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Our general council?

make sure that it is open to the public, and we want to be sure that there is some sort of democracy in this process.

That has not happened in the past. It cannot be a board of one. It needs to be a board of the community. And that's been something that will be placed on our August agenda to start that process of developing that committee, so now we have a board committee that looks at qualified applicants, not only with individuals that are representative of the board, but parents and an administrator and staff that are on that, so that we now have a board that is representative of everybody.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Right. And -- you know, and charters are a little bit different animal, especially State charters, because the parents of the students at the school don't elect the governance board. But they do have a vote in electing a school board.

So that's a very unique situation, which, again, that's one of those things is should the parents of the students at the school have a voice in electing, or, approving, board members?

Just a question I raise, because when you look at school boards versus governing councils. Or board.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: The governing board. So every single one of us was brought on by either a former chair or a former president of the board. And then the board determines applicability, whether they would make a specific contribution to the board. And then the board votes on that specific individual.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: The governing

So Brenda was on the board prior to me. I was brought on by Amy Larsen, who was the former president of the board. Willie Williams was brought on, I believe, in a public meeting. Delisha was brought on by Willie as the president of the board. So -- and Charlie Riddick is now brought on as a member by president -- or the former president, Willie Williams.

So it's essentially -- we're going to go beyond that. And this was a conversation we've had with Missy, we've had with Patty, of comprising and compiling an actual committee. Because it cannot be this idea of one person saying, "Well, I need three votes in order to make sure that my initiative is moving forward."

We want to make sure that we have qualified applicants that are coming. We want to you can call them a board, a governance board.

You know, it would be like the Legislature saying, "You know what? We've had three legislators that don't want to be here; we're going to appoint three legislators," and it never goes to the public.

And you become this insular thing without -- I mean, you want to have that public input. But you can become very, very blinded, not because you're trying to push a certain agenda, necessarily; but you can get blinded to what the true needs of the community are.

If your board is -- probably a wrong word -- but an elite group of individuals, and they are not representative, just a word of caution.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: To follow with that, Commissioner -- maybe this would be to you, Madam Chair -- are there any other charter schools where that goes before the parent? Or would that have to be an LESC change in legislation?

THE CHAIR: There's not -- there's no requirement from statute to do it. So it would be schools doing it. And so if Missy wants to --

MS. MELISSA BROWN: There's only one school in the state that I know of that has their board elected by the parents. That is Jefferson

Montessori down in Carlsbad's district-authorized. I disagree with Commissioner Robbins that it's a good idea. I think it's not a good idea.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: And that's fine. I appreciate that.

But, again, you could get people on the board if it is open. Because I served on the APS school board for four years. And when I ran, people asked me, "Why do you want to be on the school board? You don't have kids in the school. You don't have grandkids in the school."

And I said, "I am a manager, and I hire people who go to -- who went to APS. And I want them to be able to read and write and do basic math, things like that."

That's why -- and, eventually, yeah, now I have grandkids. A couple of them are in school. But, you know, you don't have to have children in school to have the interest in making sure our schools are good. So...

What are the AptaFunds, A-p-t-a-Funds, that's referenced, that there was a question? Mr. Vigil talked about the P.O. for that.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: That's a good point. So during the time that we did not have a Head Again, I'll just reiterate what Commissioner Gipson said. A salary of the $98,000, $100,000 is not out of line, even for a charter school that's only 86 students. It's really not. If it was $150,000 to $200,000, I would start getting -- things.

But we have to understand. A Level 3 teacher that has maybe 20 years' experience is going to make $80,000 a year. And then you're saying if you're a Level 3 teacher making $80,000, and now we go -- you want to promote someone to be the head administrator, and you're going to say, "Well, we're only going to pay you $94,000, $95,000, why take on all those responsibilities, headaches, and everything.

And I appreciate Mr. Thompson doing that. But there is a responsibility. And your -- it's a huge commitment in terms of time. It's not a 40-hour-a-week job. So I think that's something to consider also.

And, you know, this is an old adage: You get what you pay for. Not to dismiss Mr. Thompson's credentials or anything. But if you're saying, "Hey, we're only willing to pay $90,000," your client pool is going to be very different, and the Learner, we did have an office manager. So our vote was to allow the office manager, who is Maitai Lopez, to actually fulfill that obligation, because we had -- not only did we have contractors and purchase orders, as well as employees, that needed to be paid without that interim Head Learner, none of those individuals would have been -- would have been paid.

And so what we gave as the authorization to Maitai Lopez to carry out those authorizations -in lieu of a Head Learner, so they needed somebody to sign off on that document -- Maitai was able to help us fulfill that obligation. Now that we have

Mr. Thompson in, he's now able to sign.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: I understand you did that. But Mr. Vigil, who is your business manager -- and he's very knowledgeable about school finances -- said that there was an issue with that.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: He referenced an e-mail, but he didn't go beyond that. We are having a conversation with him tomorrow. In addition, this is the same individual who provided a budget to the board three and a half hours prior without consultation of this board. So I'll defer to that.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Okay. That's fine.

capabilities of the individuals may be very different than if you're saying, "We're willing to pay up to $100,000." Just a word of caution in that regard.

You talked about the huge amount of parental support. You talked about the teachers and things like that and how things are turning around. Why is no one here except board members and Mr. Thompson? Usually, when we've had schools come, they've had the students here.

I mean, you know, it's summertime. We've had students; we've had parents. We've had them talk about the issues -- we had them -- I don't even see them online. You're very eloquent in your speaking. I really appreciate -- boy, it's, like, wow, I wish I could be so eloquent in the way I speak as you do.

But it rings a little hollow -- not to dismiss the honesty of what you say. But it rings a little hollow when I don't see anyone here. And I don't see anyone online.

Where are the written petitions of people supporting what the board has done? Where are the parents and the students saying, "We like what the direction that the governance board is going?" That MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you, Commissioner, for that question. I think the idea is we have gone through a traditional -- or a transitional -- phase within the last week and a half. When we were informed about this meeting, an agenda was sent. It was asked that the Head Learner and the President only be here. So it wasn't a conversation piece that we invite the entire public of our student population to this meeting.

Had we known that, we would have definitely made every effort to do that.

I would invite you to join us on any one of our upcoming board meetings so that you can hear our parents. And I think that that's something that I would maybe even implore the Chair to do, is to have some of your Commission members attend some of these meetings, so that now, as we're going through this -- this Letter of Concern issue, you can now see that we are navigating towards a potential opportunity. You're going to be able to hear from the staff, and you'll be able to hear from the teachers.

One of the biggest challenges we faced is that there was not a lot of communication with the

So we are putting in place specific remedies to help address those key issues. But I'd love to invite you, Mr. Carrillo, Ms. Gipson, Ms. Voigt and Ms. Burt to join us at any time, because I think it's so important -- and the other Commissioners online -- so that we have the opportunity to be able to demonstrate our new path and how best we are bringing our parent community into this process.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Thank you. THE CHAIR: All right. I have several Commissioners who I have listed who have spoken before. So before I call on them and before I speak, I'd like to just make sure -- everyone else -- anyone else who hasn't yet will have had an opportunity.

17 (Off-the-mic comment made.) 18 THE CHAIR: Sure. All right. 19 So before I speak, I'm going to --20 Ms. Barnes has some clarifications that she'd like 21 to make. So before I go, I'm going to ask 22 Ms. Barnes to go ahead and make her clarifications. 23

MS. JULIA BARNES: Thank you. I just wanted -- we started with looking at the bylaws and the contract. I just want to go back to some of board and the parents and the board and the staff. I didn't have that authority to make that decision at that point.

One of the things that we have already set in place -- and we talked about this in our previous agenda in our last meeting on Monday -- is that we want to do town halls with the board and our parents. We want to be able to have a day of in-service with our new Head Learner, with the board, and with our staff, so that there's clear expectations of what our role is, what Mr. Thompson's role is, and what the staff's expectations are moving forward.

Because that has not happened in the last four or five years, and there's been a chip-away of these challenges that are not just -- they may look like they've blown up in the last couple of weeks. No. They've been there for quite some time.

And for me, I'm about transparency and ensuring that we have clarity in process, because that is one of the things -- working on Capitol Hill, I had to deal with this every single day, on both sides of the aisle. And when you do not have transparency and communication with your stakeholders, this is where things implode.

that so that we're consistent with that.

Just a technical thing on the resignation or removal of an officer. The bylaws indicate that the council must determine the member is inadequately performing his or her duties and overstepping the authority of the office, just to get the precise language from their bylaws.

And just to reiterate what we started with in terms of where you might be, this -- this meeting was to have the conversation you've been having, with -- any action taken today would be an intent to take action on a Notice of Concern or a -- or action on the Intervention Ladder next month.

So you get clarification now. You're coming next -- so there wouldn't be that action taken today under the Intervention Ladder.

THE CHAIR: All right. Thank you. Okay. So, first, I would like to say I'm absolutely going to take you up on attending a general council meeting -- or one of your -- I think the "general council," I heard Mr. Robbins say; now I have it in here -- a governing board meeting because I am going to support seeing you again next month.

I'm 100 percent going to want to see you, because there has been some chaos. And I would just like to follow up to ensure that doesn't continue.

I think it is -- you know, I think transitions are -- tend to be messy. And so the fact that it is messy, or was, I would like it to be a "was"; right? And so that's where my mind is going. So I am going to support seeing you next month.

So I would like to come and see what a governing board meeting looks like.

So I am -- and I do think -- I can imagine Commissioner Carrillo being the Commissioner in the district, maybe he'll join with me.

I do have concerns about -- and, once again, I'm -- my -- I'm going to go on this believing and hoping that these are all going to be "was" statements, that these are things that did happen, and that they don't continue to happen.

I am concerned with maybe some possible violations of the Open Meetings Act and how agenda items were taken up, how they're posted, things like that. So that is something I do have a concern about. And I know Commissioner Carrillo is, like, you know, there are some great trainings coming up. I think you should have a pretty big sense of sure that's -- it's probably stressful on them just to kind of hear what's been going on. And so I think solving this and creating a path moving forward, creating some stability for the school should be the number one priority.

And any kind of interpersonal happenings need to be put on the back side, because there are students who are coming to you very soon for a quality education.

And I do remember this school, in particular, during renewal. And I really believe that you could provide an amazing quality education for students who would not have this opportunity if it wasn't for this school.

So I hope that that's still going to be your number-one priority is achieving that for these students who need it the most.

So those are why my concerns are -- I would say those are the big ones for me, is when I looked at -- you know, reading through minutes, in the chaos of minutes, it is what it is. I mean, I think, like, the other Commissioners have said, it's just about, you know -- you know, Robert's Rules of Order is important. But I hope you don't take that pendulum swing too far.

urgency about getting some intensive -- maybe one of those experts that are in the state, having them come to you next week -- right? -- and doing some intensive training on what it looks like and really giving you some support to make sure that you can follow that moving forward.

I also am worried about the budget procedures that happened during this transition time. Once again, I don't know if there's -- I'm sure it could have been done better. And so what did happen, I am worried about -- I'm worried about kind of the waterfall of how that ends up impacting future findings, future audits because of what actions have happened in the past month or so.

So I do know -- I heard you say you're talking with your business manager tomorrow. And so I would hope that -- that's going to be one of the things I'm hoping that we can get a report on next month is what did happen. And if there were any errors that were created within the past several weeks on those budget pieces, that they've been corrected.

I don't -- you know, I -- I'm okay with there's not a bunch of parents and students here right now. I think that's a lot of turmoil. I'm Because I think the way -- I don't remember if it was -- oh, yeah, Commissioner Carrillo -- stating if you go too far, then you're so restrictive to, like, anyone doing things that -- don't take the pendulum shift that far; right? If it really was kind of chaotic, and you're trying to bring it back to order, you can turn off a lot of folks who are wanting to become involved or wanting to be part of it.

So I'm sure -- I have some -- I have a hunch that you have the capability to do that.

I think those are my main things. I appreciate -- the one thing that I will say that I really appreciate about today and the way we're moving forward on this item, the way the Charter School Division approached this, and -- I think we're doing this the right way. And I really, really appreciate that.

I like the idea that a school can go through some stuff, go through -- go through it with CSD -- I know that CSD tried to support in every way they possibly could. And when it got to the point where they could not any longer, that's when they brought it towards the Executive -- I know Commissioner Carrillo has been trying to do as much

And I think today, just gathering the information is an important step for us, so that we're taking the right steps moving forward and applying this situation to any other issues that come up with schools as well, that we're gathering information first, we're giving notice, and then next month you're going to have to respond to these concerns.

And if we can't get it together by next month, then we issue that Letter of Concern, or we actually go through that next part.

So that's all I have to say. I'm grateful that you all are here. I'm grateful for Ms. Williams to have attended today. And being able to hear all the different sides is really important.

And so thank you for taking a day off of your work. I know that does -- it does make a difference. And so I think the commitment to being here is important to see.

All right. So, now, I'm going to go -- I do have a list. I have Commissioner Voigt, then Commissioner Gipson, then Commissioner Carrillo.

Commissioner Voigt.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Okay. Thanks, ten essential elements for governing a charter school.

And this is very unique to other district school boards, because charter schools are unique and wonderful creatures. And so I would really hope that you could utilize something that's relevant to you.

The School Board Association conference coming up, I know you can get hours for your training. But the School Law Conference put on by the SBA is probably the most informative.

I myself am a governing board chair of Siembra Leadership High School, an APS-authorized school. And when I was the leader of Media Arts Collaborative School, we would recommend our board members go to the School Law conference, which is typically in the summer.

But Brian Carpenter, he's really the guru behind charter school governance.

I also wanted to find out -- oh, yeah.

Like -- so, there was no petition required by parents to be here today. You know, I mean, it's -- I think you have a grasp on what you need to do going forward. And with your philosophy of being fully transparent, I trust that that's what you're Madam Chair. Just to offer some more insight and possibly a comment on some of the comments that have been made.

There is a trainer in-state. I'm going to give you her name in a second.

But the National Charter Institute utilizes the teachings of Brian Carpenter for governing board training.

And most of the -- most of the state-authorized charter schools utilize his practices.

And he's very relevant and targeted towards charter schools versus bigger districts, because they talk about the significance of a charter contract, the monitoring and evaluating performance piece that the boards do, understanding the power and the purpose of your bylaws, focusing meetings and your minutes, setting academic and financial goals, managing risks and internal controls -- that's huge -- facilities, insurance, safety, and creating a board development plan.

So Brian Carpenter, from the National Charter Institute. If you just Google Brian Carpenter Governing Board, you'll find his book.

It's called Governing For Greatness, and he lays out going to do going forward. So it would have been too chaotic and too divisive, I think, to have parents here today.

So the governing board trainer that I would recommend calling is Kelly Callahan. She also serves on the Siembra Leadership board with me. But she is a really good trainer. And also, of course, the CSD.

But the sooner the better to get your training and just to get that specific relevant charter school board training, I think, would really benefit you.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Madam Vice Chair, is there a way you can give contact maybe to Missy or to the Director?

MS. MELISSA BROWN: I have Kelly's and I have Dr. carpenter's; so...

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Thank you so much. COMMISSIONER VOIGT: She's all about that.

I just had one question. When is or was your first day of school?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: So our first day of school will be August 6th.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Okay. Super. That's all. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Thanks. So I'm going to ask, with what Commissioner Voigt said, are you a member of the Public Charter Schools? Do you have membership in the Public Charter schools, Matt -- Pahl's.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: That's a good question. I don't know.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Public Charter Schools of New Mexico? Because if you are, then you've got access right there to Kelly and a whole lot of -- so if you have membership -- and you should have somewhere in your finances a record of -- or, you could call them, and they could certainly tell you.

And they are more than cooperative with working out arrangements for membership levels to get immediate support that won't break your budget if -- you know.

So I would -- that's -- you know, that's how you can contact -- you know.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Can you give us that name one more time?

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Matt Pahl, Public Charter Schools. Is he online now?

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: He is not right

Do they? That's just -- because we've had other schools where that's become a little bit of a hinky issue. I'm just questioning that. And if someone could clarify that, I'd really appreciate it.

I just also want to just publicly state that Ms. Williams' resignation is not an official resignation at this meeting, that she needs to go through your process.

I get it. But all of that is certainly proof of the pudding that there's chaos. And you, you know, you need triage right now.

And I'm going to reflect back to what Commissioner Carrillo said was the shock and awe. I wasn't. Because a year and a half ago, we were in this position with the board before Ms. Feathers was brought on. So I'm only -- you know, it's, like, when, oh, my God, there's a problem, it's like, really?

I'm not shocked, you know, because it's been endemic in this board and every -- you know, all the other -- there wasn't a head administrator for a long time. Then there were two, and it was a mess. So there's a general concern that I have that the board isn't taking care of the administration of now.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: (Comment without microphone.)

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: I'm almost certain, because Ms. Matthews had stated that there are specific opportunities that we can access.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So you probably are.
MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Tomorrow, when we have her on with Mr. Vigil, I'll ask that question.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Thanks. I guess part of my additional concern is the fact that there wasn't anyone from the Vigil Group here today.

MS. MELISSA BROWN: They're online.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Oh, okay. Without digging in a lot -- so if we could bring them on.

And while we're doing that, you mentioned before that you had given the authorization to your business manager, with the lack of a head administrator to sign.

I just have a question. Someone needs to be -- I don't know who is going to answer this for me. I don't know whether that's allowable, that -- you know, I don't know if the board has the authority to be able to do that. I'm questioning it.

the school as they're supposed to with making sure that there's, you know, the right fit for leadership in that school.

That's -- you know, I'm not digging into who it is. But it's obvious that the board is having difficulties, so that even more so than the OMA -- and I'm not dismissing OMA -- but the board needs that training. And the Public Charter Schools can also offer you that training in guiding you in helping to create that better vision on who that fit is going to be and how to go about it and how to evaluate -- how to create an evaluation tool that'll best fit the school to make sure that you're on the right track, because that's all we're looking for.

So I -- you know, I guess I'm also looking at, you know, how can -- how can we help? Because we want to right this -- we want to make sure this ship is right. And I'm hoping you're on the right track.

But, you know, anything that we can do to help, you know, man the lifeboats, that's -- that's what we're here for, more than the hammer, you know.

So that's -- but if Mike is on? THE CHAIR: Yes, Mr. Vigil is on, yes. Go ahead, Commissioner Gipson. Restate your question, because he's transitioning over.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: I have two questions -- thanks.

I haven't seen you in a while. I have two questions.

In the summaries of the board minutes, there were concerns that were apparently raised at the public meeting that your group had concerns. And they weren't identified. And it's -- so I guess I have a question of what are the general areas where those concerns are?

And then my second question related to a comment that was made that, with the absence of a head administrator, the business manager was given the authority by the board to sign the checks so that payments could be made.

And, in addition to that, I don't think it was really answered, the question that Commissioner Robbins had, what were AptaFunds. I don't think that was answered what those funds are.

So my question is does the -- can the board turn that authority over to the business manager for those signatures? And I'm not sure.

MR. MIKE VIGIL II: Thank you, Commissioner Gipson, Madam Chair, members of the concerns, and definitely not publicly.

What I was sent from the office manager, who was given the authority eventually to authorize payment for payroll and vendors and things of that nature, the office manager was asking if the governing council could have access to -- again, this is going to your next question, which is AptaFund. AptaFund is not "AptaFunds." It's a software provided by Harris Corporation. It's the financial -- basically, the system that I think probably 90, 95 percent of charter schools use.

But, essentially, the question was raised could the governing counsel have access to be the approver on that system?

So with our internal controls being that we're third-party, we're not allowed to approve anything. We can process. We can check budget authority, check coding, all those good things. But at the end of the day, we need to have someone at the school to be able to approve.

That person was the head admin.

Obviously, they didn't have one in place at the time. So that question was raised, can a governing council member provide that service. And my simple answer was that it was irregular, and, probably, you board. There's a lot of clarification on this.

So the first issue -- I'll try to remember the three that you brought up, the first being it was not the business manager that is signing anything. The lack of the head administrator resulted in an issue of approval on what I'll go into on the next one, which will be on the financial system of purchase orders and the approval of payment vouchers.

Signatory lies at the bank. That cannot be changed on a whim. You have to go through the governing council policy and then go to the bank and actually make that change. But signing authority still was at the level where I believe there was there were still two signers that were on the council.

So nothing changes as far as signing. The only thing that changed was that in their interim controls and processes, the head administrator formerly would approve of payment vouchers and of payroll itself. With that lack, we were, you know, kind of stuck in the mud about who's going to approve that.

That can actually lead to the second question as far as the concerns. We never raised know, not advisable for a governing council to have access to the financial system.

Within most governing council bylaws, you're probably going to have something in there that says, "Governing council is just for that, governing, not for operating."

So the day to day -- it was our recommendation from me directly that the governing council should not be involved in day-to-day operations. It was quickly resolved. They didn't push on that. We didn't raise concern in a public manner whatever.

So unless that e-mail got out somehow, which is fine with me because it was very blunt and to the point -- but it was really resolved real fast and the authority given to the office manager, not the business manager, the office manager being an employee of the school, which is Ms. Maitai Garcia (verbatim), just for the simple matter of processing on the system itself.

So once we verified budgetary availability and also the coding, the amounts, and things of that nature, Maitai would then go on the system where the head administrator would go into AptaFund formerly and approve. That kind of hits on all three of those, and I stand for any follow-up questions.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So at this point in time, you're reasonably confident in saying there's no financial concerns with the school.

MR. MIKE VIGIL II: Yes, ma'am. I'm actually more than confident in that matter. The school actually is taking carryover that they have not had in the past, and they also have a budget that was, you know, built around the annual SEG, which involved a lot of increases to those teacher raises. And they were able to manage to meet that budget, provided that, you know, the hires that they do have remain within the budgeted FTEs.

So at this point, it's July 22nd. We'll see when they start on-boarding actual employees and actually get students coming in to see how budget goes. But that's a normal process, and we'll deal with that as we go.

But at this point in time, I have no concerns. Budgetarily, financially, none whatsoever.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Thank you very much. I appreciate it.

24 THE CHAIR: All right. We have 25 Commissioner Carrillo.

If you are interested in making a motion or would like to have something included -- like, you're feeling strongly about something to be included in the motion, I'd like Commissioners to come talk to Julia so she can work on drafting a complete motion, ensuring that process is being followed. If you are online, and you would like to have something, you can send Julia a text message. If you don't have your -- if you don't have her phone number, text me.

I know you all have my phone number. So text me or e-mail me real quick, and I can give you her phone number. So you can text her or you can give me a phone call, and I'll make sure you can talk to Julia. And then we'll come back and entertain a motion. Mr. Casados?

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Madam Chair, I do want to make a clarification to Ms. Gipson. So our first day for teachers is August 1st. So first day for teachers is August 1st. We have -- JumpStart for our seventh- and eighth-graders is actually August 10th. Our K through third is August 11th. And our JumpStart for fourth and sixth is August 12th. So we are on-boarding them based upon their specific time periods at different time

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I'm not on any of those topics. But commenting on what Commissioner Robbins had said around board and board selection, just -- I think it's a great idea to have parents involved, parents of students involved in helping select board members.

Just the whole notion that, you know, four

I mean, it's, like, you're stacking the court.
You're just finding people that agree with you.
And alternative points of view are great.
We don't always agree on everything here. But, people can just say, "Hey, we want this guy" -- and,

We don't always agree on everything here. But, oftentimes, we make arguments to one another, and we open each others' minds, and we come to -- honestly, consensus, in most cases, in the way we vote.

So I just -- I -- I would consider that. I think -- I know Missy said she hated the idea. Maybe didn't use the word "hated." But I don't know. I love the idea of having the parent community involved in this crucial decision, the leadership of their school.

That's the rest for me.

THE CHAIR: All right. So, at this time, I don't have anyone else on my list for questions, but I would like to take a short break.

periods. So I did misspeak. I'm sorry. I did want to clear that. And we are members of the Public

THE CHAIR: Great. So you utilize them? MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Yes, we will. THE CHAIR: And listen to your attorney.

MR. ISAAC CASADOS: Sounds good.

THE CHAIR: Listen to Missy.

Charters of New Mexico. All right?

All right. We're going to just a short break for folks to come talk to Julia, if you would like to.

Let's do -- let's do 12:00 for right now. Could be extended, but at least till 12:00.

(Recess taken, 11:51 a.m. to 12:02 p.m.)

THE CHAIR: All right. we're going to go ahead and come back.

Do you all want me to wait on Mr. Casados, or just move on without him? Okay.

All right. I have a quorum of six, it looks, like right now. Okay. Seven. Those of you online? I just want to make sure. Thank you. Eight. We have eight.

Okay. All right. Thank you all for that. I am going to pass over to Commissioner Carrillo for a motion.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: I've got it. I'm clear now. Thank you. I think that's reasonable. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Thanks.

THE CHAIR: All right. The only -- I think I'm inclined to want to be okay with that. But I, also, where my head is at is if I'm going to send out an e-mail to charter directors with these new forms and say, "Hey, we're going to be considering these new forms, please give us your comment by the next meeting," I don't want to come off as disingenuous that their comments don't actually matter because we're going to allow folks to just use the new forms, and we're going to approve them, and they're going to use them at the end of that same meeting.

So, to me, that's my concern. And it's coming from that lens of I want input from them. And so I also want to allow that input to be able to change the form. If it -- if there's a leader who has something on the form that's, like, "This doesn't make sense," and we're, like, "You know what? It doesn't, right," but then there's a school that's using that form proactively and is ready to careful.

If we've changed policy and we haven't changed the form, they either wait to use the new form or they don't submit. They just have to wait. Because I think it's very important that they be required to use forms that conform to current policy and statute.

I mean -- and sometimes we get the cart before the horse. I understand maybe we did that in this case. But I just have a real concern about deferring that and using old forms that may not conform completely to current policy.

THE CHAIR: Thanks. Commissioner Gipson? COMMISSIONER GIPSON: So the only thing -and I hear what you're saying. The only thing is -excuse me -- one, those -- none of those items that are associated with an amendment are appealable. If a school gets denied, they don't have any statutory right to appeal that. So that's less of a concern.

I'm going to play devil's advocate and say, you know, the Commission didn't pay any attention to the forms before. Not me. But the Commission didn't. So I don't understand why using the old forms really matters, because the Commission chose not to pay attention to those forms before.

submit their amendment and is expecting us to vote and then have their amendment heard, but we actually do need to change it, you know, and we need to be able to be pliable -- so that's my hesitancy on it.

So I would say what I'm more comfortable with is if there is an urgency to where a school has to submit something by August, then they should use the old form. And, otherwise, if they do not have to submit it by August, I think they should wait to submit in September with the new form. That would be my recommendation.

I see your hand up. I want to make sure anyone else who hasn't spoken -- I'll give you one second to raise your little hand.

Yeah. Commissioner Robbins.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Yeah. The only -with the motion -- proposed motion in here on the second one, Part B -- and I -- I believe giving some discretion is good. The problem of using an old form that doesn't conform to current policy is we set precedent. And then, later on, we have an issue, and they go to court, and they say, "Well, you didn't follow policy there. We don't think that was very important, so we're going to overrule you on something else," I think we have to be very

So I -- I fully believe that we should have complied with those forms. But the majority of the Commission didn't.

THE CHAIR: Ms. Brown?

MS. MELISSA BROWN: Wouldn't any forms coming before the PEC in August have already been submitted?

THE CHAIR: I think there are some that have only a 14-day or -- I think there are some that are closer to the meeting date that can be submitted. So I think this does -- this is an issue -- or could probably be an issue. But that's what -- I just don't -- I think if there is some kind of urgency where they have to have it in August, use the old form.

Like, if -- if not, if it's something that they can go into August, and it's not going to create some kind of financial burden or some kind of hindrance to them operating, I would direct the CSD to just say, "Thank -- thanks for submitting an amendment. Can you wait until September? Can you submit this in September? We're not -- we're just not going to accept amendments in August unless it's

Commissioner Gipson.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: By and large, the amendments for notice for change of head administrator, those haven't really changed, so -- you know. Because staying in compliance with notice of governance council and things like that, those are important.

But, yeah, the -- and I fully agree. If it's an enrollment cap, anything like that, unless it is -- you know, you're going to lose something, then they should wait.

And they have time to wait, because most of those amendments don't apply until the following school year. So what is the urgency, you know?

So -- but if they could look at the new form and use it as a guide for what is -- what could be the potential discussion, if they could just look at it, submit it on the old form, but please be aware that the Commission is -- will most likely be looking at this, in addition, I think it's -- it's informative for the school to be advised that so they're not going to say, "I don't know why you asked me about that because it wasn't on the form."

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Do you want me to say it again?

THE CHAIR: If you would like to make the motion.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Provided the amendment -- provided -- failure -- or provided the timing of the amendment or the lack of approval -- right? -- waiting for the form, however we want to word that -- provided the timing of the request is urgent and waiting for the new form could cause significant or material loss to the school.

Maybe "loss" is the wrong term. Maybe a "significant or material impact." Because "loss" could imply some sort of financial thing, and it may not be a financial issue. Yeah. But just "material impact to the school." Does that sound right, Ms. Barnes?

MS. JULIA BARNES: Working on it.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Okay. I'm watching you type. So it's really fun to watch that, you know.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Carrillo, are you seeing the typing this time?

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: (Inaudible due to non-use of microphone.)

avenues of potential questions, but that they're certainly not going to be asked at this moment in time to have a community input hearing on this, you know, because it's kind of late.

So I think they need to be aware of those

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Robbins?
COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Is it possible, under B, giving the discretion to bring forward school contract amendments under existing forms in the near future that may not follow existing policy precisely and identify what portion of existing policy are not being followed, "provided the school would suffer material loss or other significant impact by not having it acted upon earlier."

I think that gives a little more direction. And rather than just saying, "Oh, we just don't want to wait," I think that maybe gives a little more direction, and it gives me more comfort that a challenge -- possible challenge later on would not hold up.

THE CHAIR: Yeah. Ms. Barnes was saying she doesn't think we actually need a motion on this, that our conversation is -- could be enough to just give that kind of direction to CSD.

If anyone would like to make a motion, yeah, we would need that language included; so...

THE CHAIR: All right. Any other questions for CSD or for Ms. Barnes?

And, like I said, we can entertain a motion. Ms. Barnes also thinks we don't have to have a motion. But if you feel more comfortable doing a motion just clarifying this, then I think that's also fine.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: I would just ask Director Chavez if she feels a motion would be better, or if she is clear that only if there's material or significant impact to the school would be sufficient guidance. It still gives you enough discretion.

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: I think that would be sufficient. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Okay. So I don't think a motion is necessary with her concurrence. Thank you.

THE CHAIR: Great. So I think our consent agenda next month is going to be very short is what that sounds like, or maybe nothing on our consent agenda next month.

MS. JULIA BARNES: Could I just clarify? I actually think, on the notifications, there's minor changes to the form.

162 1 THE CHAIR: So go ahead and use those. 1 the authorizing world is, as we speak, talking about 2 2 MS. But there 3 3 And so I really appreciate the subgroup --4 4 may be one or two of those. I actually want to say we don't call ourselves a subgroup -- the -- thank 5 5 I think that you do need to know about those things you, yeah -- the project team that has been coming 6 6 in a timely way, and they've been doing it every together to discuss and dig into the indicators. 7 7 month; so ... Thank you, 3 looks like there's about a $7,000 difference, 4 4 something like that? Because I can't put them both and thanks for bringing this up, Director Chavez, 5 5 because I know it's one of those things where I up at the same time. The contrast between 6 think you've been kind of saying and asking us about 6 SCHOOLWORKS® and --7 7 DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Yeah. So the it for a little while. So I 14 facilitator? 15 know we talked about this at the Work Session 15 DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Yes, we really 16 yesterday. But as the Commission knows, we have 16 need a facilitator. I do, if you want me to 17 17 been in the process of revising the existing participate. And I -- I think what I appreciate 18 18 Performance Framework, updating it, and really about this Commission is that you guys recognize 19 19 asking the question about what are some -- what are that I am a participant in your work, that we work 20 20 the things that matter when we are making decisions hand in hand. And so you make the decisions, but I 21 authorizing recommendations and decisions around 21 want to make really strong recommendations. 22 charter schools, what kind of information should the 22 And I think sometimes you -- you listen to

I am managing the meeting, making sure that that with the Performance Framework as well. And if everybody has an opportunity to speak, that notes are being taken, that it is all --

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: (Inaudible due to simultaneous speaking) lose you from the --

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Okay.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Gipson.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: And I'm going to say for me, as far as I understand the facilitation of the meetings are important so that Corina can be more present -- but, for me, the facilitation goes far beyond that, because it's the work -- when they come back -- because they're taking all of our input, and then they're saying, "Here, this is how we've drafted this, you know, based on your input," Corina, to ask Corina to then do that, there's no capacity there to be able to do that kind of work.

I know she can do it, but she doesn't have capacity right now to do it, because it's just way too much. There's a lot of work that goes into taking all of what we've said and then putting it into all those little boxes and doing -- they do research as to say what's -- you know, nationally what's recognized on some of these things. So it

So definitely an outside facilitator.

2 THE CHAIR: Commissioner Robbins?

COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: You know, between the two, the dollars aren't significantly different.

But, generally, when you're doing a contract, you

6 take the low bid. I mean, is there -- I mean,

7 because I'm looking at it from the standpoint of Procurement Code and things like that. If we've 9 solicited these two, and these are the two offers we

10 have, and we feel that both are valid facilitator options, then I think we're obliged to take the lower cost option, unless there is some material difference as to picking the other one.

Because you know if we reque

Because, you know, if we requested this -unless they're -- if they're both on State Price Agreement, then there's no problem. You can pick the one you want. But if they're not, then I think Procurement Code says you pick the lower cost of the two, if you feel that they will meet the -- the minimums of what is needed.

THE CHAIR: Before I go back around to people who haven't spoken, I will say I think we got lucky that the group that we felt like actually is better is the cheaper option. So I think we got lucky in that, because I do think there was a really is -- goes far and beyond.

And we want Corina, on a weekly basis, to be present at the meeting. But if -- it was just that, we could probably find someone just to do that.

But it goes well beyond just the facilitation of our regular Tuesday meetings. It's the -- it's the final end project that's going -- that they're going to be able to help do a whole lot. Even when we did this five years ago, or four years ago, we had -- we had a group that did it for us, you know.

So it's -- it's paramount for me.

THE CHAIR: Commissioner Voigt.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Yes. You know, I -- we definitely need an outside facilitator. You know, expertise is in many different realms. And I think the benefit of having an outside facilitator is that not only do they help us with our thinking, but they help us rethink about different aspects.

And I think we all know each other so well, and, you know, it's really easy to become entrenched. And someone from the outside can help us with being more responsive to what our ultimate end game is going to be.

When I was looking at it, I do think there was a difference in quality, and also even -- the one thing about SCHOOLWORKS® is they had some variable pricing in theirs to where it could go up more; whereas, the National Charter Institute one was more inclusive and more flat-rate, which I liked as well.

The other thing that I did -- I was concerned about, and I feel relieved by and feel more comfortable with, is the one thing I was worried about was getting a facilitator who had their own agenda to do things a certain way they are programmed to do.

And I'm, like, well, we want to do things our way; right? And maybe we can be influenced or we can get some more learning or get understanding. But at the end of the day, it should be the PEC's document in conjunction with the Charter Schools Division in New Mexico. It shouldn't be a different entity's way of doing business.

And so that was one of my questions to this vendor, in particular, because they do have a specific academic kind of profile that they employ across their organization.

Director Chavez.

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: All right. Thank you, Commissioners. They're giving me a hard time.

I first want to give a staffing update.

And because our meetings are so hard to plan in terms of when this is, Felicia and William, who are two new team members, and I were trying to gauge when my report would be. So they may step down from upstairs on the third floor, wherever they are working, to come say hi to you.

But I am happy that Felicia has joined as a business operations staff, and she has -- is going to take over all aspects of Commission travel reimbursements.

So next month, we'll go into greater detail about systems to support you. If there's anything that you want to let me know between now and two weeks before our August meeting about the Commissioner reimbursements, please feel free to reach out to me or Deputy Director Brigette Russell to share what -- what suggestions you might have.

I'm hoping that with Felicia at the helm and it being just one person that is managing the entire packet, if you will, of reimbursements, that And then Ms. Maricela Rincon, who is the Ed Admin aide that I hired from Las Cruces, a former principal from that area of the state, has also decided to move on. So we also wish her well. We're going to miss her a ton. And we understand that, you know, she has other ideas in mind and maybe misses being in the school setting. So we understand. This is the time that transitions occur. And so we have to say good-bye to Mari.

But one of the people that I hired -- and I mentioned, I think it was at the last meeting -- and who joined us in D.C., and who everybody who found out that he joined the team in D.C., said "Woo-hoo, you really scored with Louie Torrez."

So Louie is the Director of the Charter Schools Program Grant, the federal grant that we have that Brigette used to run.

So he -- he took that position, and he will be doing other things in the Division as well, so much more already. He's added value to his position.

But I know that, Commissioners, you often ask about details around the Charter Schools Program Grant. You want to know numbers, you want specifics. And sometimes I say, "I don't have that.

there is better tracking, that there's more timeliness, that next May, we are not processing travel from September or October. We are going to be on you guys to make sure that you've done your be on you guys to make sure that you've done your parts, and my aim is that you get reimbursed very quickly.

So that's -- that's my goal. And Felicia is really going to help with that. I know she will. So stay tuned for that.

And then William has been hired as my assistant. So he's sitting up there outside my office and going to help with scheduling and all kinds of things. Stay tuned with that.

He's a real sweetie, and he'll probably come down to say hi in a minute. He's working on an IRIS ticket for Commissioner Gipson as we speak. So it's that sort of support that they will be able to offer to you all, and to me, in running this incredible division.

I also am really sad to say that this month we had two letters of resignation, one for Ms. Val Cordova, who has been working on the Charter Schools Program Grant as a business operations staff person. She's decided to move on. And so we wish her well, and we'll certainly miss Val.

Give me a minute."

Right now, I'm going to say that Louie has that.

So I'd like to turn over my report to Louie, so he can give you an update on the Charter Schools Program Grant.

MR. LOUIE TORREZ: Does it make sense for me to leave my Zoom camera off and just use this one? Because if I see myself up there, it's going to be weird.

I still see myself.

Okay. Okay. No, don't leave -- or did I -- okay. Share.

Are we good? Yeah. Let me do this. Will it let me? Okay. Cool.

Good afternoon, Chairman Burt, fellow Commissioners. It's an honor to -- to sit before you to present the Charter School Grant update.

It's exciting to come in and to be asked to spend money. That's -- that's always -- for my opinion, that's always a fun thing to do.

I mentioned last month -- and I'm not sure if everybody was there -- there's people on the -- on the meeting today that didn't hear, because I was introduced last month. I'm coming from the Title I

And almost to the day -- so my first day at Title I was May 21, 2012. My first day at Charter Schools was May 16, 2022. So it's been -it's been a great ride. In fact, I talked to Sam Ornelas earlier. You saw me step out to take a call. So it's still good to connect with Mr. Ornelas for those of you who know him.

I'm going to take you through a few slides. I apologize if it looks like it's a large dump. I tried to give it sort of an overview feel. There are a couple of slides that seem a little full with information. And my commitment to you is that next month, at the August session, I will have everything I'm showing you down to the penny. Right now, I have an asterisk on -- on this slide right off the bat. The numbers I'm going to be showing you do need some reconciliations; and not so much from other departments at PED. It's just some numbers I need to make sure.

So a little bit more of the background with some numbers that I just sort of gave you a minute ago.

The State award originally was $22,500,000. It was reduced in 2021 -- probably not news to anyone in this group -- by almost $4 million. So, currently, we are working with a budget of $18,500,000 and change.

The rules of this grant are that a minimum of 90 percent needs to be pushed out to the charter schools. The remaining 10 percent stays at the State. 7 percent is a minimum for technical assistance. And on the administrative piece, we cannot go above 3. So we can go above 90. We can go above 7. We cannot go above 3.

If I were to break down how those subgrants have been pushed out, new schools receive just over $7 million. Expansion schools received over 3. There was one State charter that received a replication grant of just over a million. And then there was a specific additional distance learning initiative that was about $4 and a half million.

So if you're trying to add up those numbers, I'm switching the slides on you. I've done that math for you on this slide.

I want things to be to the penny. I mean, when you're dealing with millions of dollars, even in those instances, you want things to match up.

And so right now I have a couple of small questions. You'll probably even see them. As I show you the numbers if you have a calculator out and are trying to make the numbers match, I tell you they will not match to the penny today.

So I'll give you a little bit of background on the CSP Grant, and then I'll walk you through where charter schools are, what options they had as the end ever the fiscal year came down on June 30, also where we stand with our part of those funds, and then a projection on a couple of possibilities moving forward into our No Cost Extension year.

So the CSP grant was applied for in 2017 by Katie Poulos, who I believe was the charter director at that time. Our state was awarded just over $22 million. And, at this point, we are just in our sixth year, because the grant was supposed to end this September 30th, 2022. But there was a request for an extension, which was granted.

And so we are currently in a No Cost Extension year.

The current balances for the charter schools -- and I've added GY23. And on the last bullet of this slide, that $872,000 is reflected in the $16 million in the first bullet.

So we will have pushed out $16 million to the schools, which is at about 90 percent. I think we're, like, just a hair over 90.

As of June 30, there was just under $2 million still in the charters' hands.

THRIVE, RioGAFA, and Explore, they received their $872,000 on July 1, because it was an FY23 portion of their allocation. They received part of it in '21-'22 as a planning portion. And now they're receiving the remainder in their implementation portion.

They had two -- those charters that had some remaining balance of just under $2 million. They had two options as June 30 approached. They could say, "I'll just wait for my remaining balance when carryover is calculated and given to me," which is around November through March, as you might have heard your constituents tell you that sometimes carryover takes a long time at PED.

Or the other option -- and it's really -it doesn't have to be an either/or. They could have done both, and there are some that have done. They took an option of an unliquidated obligation. That typically is not available, but because back in, like, February/April, PED did not know whether we were going to receive a No Cost Extension. They put this particular fund in the realm of it's expiring. And the way you handle it's expiring is we give you your remaining balance, like, right away in July so you can finish by September 30.

So that option was put out there to them. I did a session at the -- at the Charter School Division charter conference, I think it was, like, June 9 or June 10.

And I took the time to explain those options to them, because the unliquidated obligation is a unique animal, because what you need to do is to make sure you encumber any funds that you're planning to spend on that first quarter of the next fiscal year before June 30 and take a snapshot of your expenditure report or your encumbrance report and use that as documentation and actually submit to PED a specific form that ASD has created and said, "These are the items you want to spend in the first quarter. These are the lines that they're going to be in."

staff, the students, the parents, the community.

There was others that were excited about their specific program, their niche. Whether it was health science or whether it was technology, they were excited about that option. So it sort of started the meeting off on a good foot.

I also asked them -- and I won't take our time here -- I asked them, "What are you doing to relax?" You know, two years of COVID, what are you doing to stay sane? There were some cool suggestions. One person said, "I go garden my tomatoes. That's my way."

And there was a lot of other good suggestions, also, which I personally benefited from.

So I don't want to -- I might be coming across as a machine gun, so let me pause here. I think I've already shown you a couple of slides with a lot of information. Anything so far? Would you like for me to continue?

(No response.)

22 MR. LOUIE TORREZ: Continue?

Okay. Very good.

24 So now we're going to look at -- and I 25 know I'm calling this slide "State Budget." But

183

And I want to say there's four or five charters that chose that option. The largest is THRIVE, who had a large balance coming up to June 30, but now has full budget authority for that huge balance. And they say that they can spend roughly that $400K in these next roughly 70 days to finish their school layout.

So that was exciting to see.

In Title I, I didn't have unliquidated obligations, so that was a new animal for me as well.

What was sort of fun about the session, it was my first time to get to meet charters. I know it was virtually, but I asked them -- and maybe one of you attended that session, I'm not sure. We had about 30 participants who actually signed in on the chat. I think there was actually more probably in the session.

And I asked them what they thought was really cool about their school. And it was -- it was exciting to see how many people are excited about their schools.

I would say probably a third of those who responded, if not 50 percent, said they're excited about the people that are part of their school, the just remember this is just the 10 percent.

90 percent went to the schools. That's what that $60 million number was about.

Now we're going to look at the 10 percent, which is roughly just under $2 million.

That first bullet that talks about G5. It haven't mentioned that till right now. G5 is the federal holding place for our monies. So they might award you $20 million or $500 million, but they don't give you those funds until you actually spend the funds. They don't -- and, again, I'm trying to not go into details about all federal funds. But that's the way the system works. There's $50 million sitting out there. You draw down money as you spend it.

So we still, as of -- I think this was July the 2nd -- we had a balance in G5 of just over 5 of the 18,5 we were talking about.

So if you're a numbers person, you're saying, "Well, Louie, this $2 million overall budget, 1.778, and the 16 and change you shared, why do we have $5 million sitting at the Fed's bank?"

Because, as you might imagine, we pay the districts that we need to get paid. And that process can literally show gaps of weeks to months.

So that's my general explanation of why the G5 is not much lower is because the State does its drawdowns on a certain basis. And we don't really tell them when to do the drawdown. But I know those funds will be drawn down soon and bring that balance even lower.

So now to get into details of the 10 percent.

The numbers in the Budget line column, the 2, 3, 4, and 7, those are the numbers that are used in Share. I gave you the names in general terms of what those categories are: Salaries, Contracts, Other, and Indirect. You'll see that -- and this is for the full five-year picture. I'm not going by each award letter we received.

Again, maybe too many details. But there was four award letters our state received of that $18 million. We didn't get one $18 million letter five years ago; we've been getting it in chunks. What I'm showing you today is the big chunk.

I can show you by individual GANs at our next meeting, if you'd like to see that view. But about $900K was for salaries. We've spent just over half of that. You can see the balances.

If you were to take the Budget column continue.

And there is a question slide at the end, so you can save your questions for the end.

So here's the -- sort of potential '23 view of funds that are remaining.

Explore-Rio Rancho, using numbers that they provided in their application, could reach up to 878. It could be less; it could be more. But just to give you a ballpark of what that number could look for them.

And 21st Century, which maybe is new information to this group, that you didn't know they were looking for an expansion grant. But we can talk about that a little bit as well.

But their estimate would be about $100K. And then the rest of the funds for personnel and contracts, like the previous slide.

And then what I'd like to sort of end with is that last bullet, Leadership Roundtable.

At the session I had with the Charter Schools back in June, I brought this topic up, because that was actually written into the grant application originally. And I understand that sort of ebbed and flowed over the five years.

And I think Director Chavez wants me to minus the Expense column, I'll guarantee you, you will not come up to the remaining. And the reason is, is because I have left out the Encumbrance and Pre-Encumbrance columns. Those are where monies have been promised or been saved. And I want to get a full -- there's -- just to be quite honest, there's a few things I need to disencumber. And then that will change our balances, and that's going to take me the time between now and August to get

But you can see the beginning budget. You can see the remaining balance.

Most of those balances will go up. Maybe one item number that catches your attention is that negative. No one ever wants to see negatives in any spreadsheet. That will be resolved by one single disencumbrance.

There's a quarter-million-dollar requisition that I need to have taken out. And when that happens, the remaining balance will go back up to, like, a $200,000 balance, rather than a negative $66,000. So, again, a big chunk of information.

Any questions? (No response.)

that true picture.

MR. LOUIE TORREZ: Okay. So I'll make this my first priority, you know, keep track of the money, but make this Leadership Table thing work.

So that will be -- I plan -- I don't see why I can't meet this obligation -- I want to commit to give you a plan of that Leadership Roundtable at the next PEC session.

But I asked a group in June, you know, who do you think should be part of this table? How often should they happen? How long should they be? What should we be looking at?

And I got some information that day. One that I remember is that we want to know, those of us that are small charters, you know, how can we manage our multiple funding sources? How can we, you know, generate other funds?

And, you know, that's familiar to me. At Walatowa, that wasn't my title, but I was writing grants all the time. That's what charters do.

And so we're looking at that.

One other sort of big-picture idea that I'll just put out there for you to think about and germinate, and that is innovation. So here's -- in my mind, all of this, great things that state and local charters are doing, and in all these years, maybe we haven't done our best to let the rest of the state know what's working and what maybe -- you know, you don't have to go to Michigan or California. You have people doing some awesome stuff here. And I think that could be a roundtable.

And I have some ideas of how to really hook people and make that a large, not a 50-person attendance, but, like, a 500-person attendance, to put that out there.

I don't think that'll be the only focus cushion of the Leadership Roundtable, but that could be one session.

There's other ideas. One other idea that I think has some traction is, "Yeah, we can all come to Albuquerque. But why don't you come to Cruces? Or why don't you come to Taos?"

I can take this on the road. And, again, I think you get different participation when you do those kind of things.

I know that sometimes when I would have conferences in other towns, they would say, "Well, Louie, why did you bring it to Clovis? I want to go to Albuquerque. I want to do my shopping or my eating or whatever."

You're not going to please everybody. But

1 THE CHAIR: Make sure I did that first. 2 COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Maybe the Director

3 needs to tell everyone.

> DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: Correct. So, first of all, I just want to call to your attention that the two staff members that I mentioned earlier are in the back of the room. So Felicia and William, say hi to the Commission. Commissioners, say hi to Felicia and William.

And also, I wanted to let the Commissioners know that although it is true Felicia is taking over all aspects of your travel, we do have a challenge right now with DocuSign. And it's being assigned to Felicia. So I would ask you to hold off on submitting your DocuSigns until next week. And when an e-mail comes out from me that this has been resolved. Okav. Don't wait till December, Commissioner Carrillo.

But I think that by next week, I'm hoping that we can have it resolved.

So that's the announcements that I wanted to make. And I don't know if there's any questions that people have for Louie. I want to say thank you to Louie for putting that together. That's a lot of detail and a lot of great information.

I do think there was other people at those meetings that said, "Thank you, because I would have never attended," especially staff. You know, administration can go to Albuquerque for a day or two. But the people in the trenches, you know, they can't, you know, because of their own family obligations or other obligations. So let's bring it to them and maybe only have them have to drive 100 miles than 300 miles.

And, you know, if you're coming from Hobbs, it's about 400 miles. So it's, like, another place over there. And there's great people down there. And so don't have a lot of charters down there, but -- you know, who's to say we couldn't look at that as well? So I digress. Sorry about

So, quick, maybe too quick, maybe too much, maybe not enough. But that's what the question time can be for.

THE CHAIR: All right. I know, Commissioner Gipson, I saw your hand up earlier. I don't know if it's about CSP. Maybe it was about something else in the report?

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Yeah. It was about reimbursement, and I got it answered. So ...

THE CHAIR: There are questions. Don't go anywhere, Louie, okay?

Commissioner Voigt.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Thank you. Thanks, Louie, for that really in-depth CSP presentation.

I wanted to talk about, you know, the roundtables that you're going to be taking over. I think it's a great idea for charter leaders to get together. Just before COVID, I reached out to some charter schools in my district. And we all had breakfast together. And it was really a great thing. And we were going to start doing that monthly, those face to face over food. And then COVID came, and so we didn't do that.

But then we, in -- maybe it was March -we all met at the Albuquerque School of Excellence. And charter leaders have expressed that those school site visits and sharing information and doing a tour and just a real -- the school would host, and then they would share their practices, you know, whatever, their org chart, their salary schedule, their bell schedule, whatever, that that kind of information was really helpful.

And then there was just open questions. But I love your idea, because, you know, charter leaders never spend enough time -- or they don't prioritize the time to get together with another charter leader to develop, like, critical friends groups, especially friends that have similar demographics or similar missions, because amongst all the 90 charter schools in the state, it seems like -- it could be State charters and district charters -- that can cross that bridge and come together to share their best practices or what's working for them around, you know, what does your bell schedule look like? Are you starting at 8:30? Are you starting at 10:00? We have younger kids. They like to start earlier. We have older kids. They like to start later. That type of thing, to divide them up into those types of buckets of either

MR. LOUIE TORREZ: I am familiar with ECHO from the ESSER experience. I know we funded some work with ECHO with ESSER funds. But so -- that's about the length of my experience with them. I am aware of them, and I know we have worked with them before. Right at the beginning of COVID, I don't know what we did with them. But they did something with us.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: I know what he was doing with UNM ECHO. He was working Future Focused Ed. Their communities of practice are around their graduation profile, and their graduation capstones. That's what he was doing.

But I'll put you in touch with Michael -with Dr. Stanton. Thank you.

MR. LOUIE TORREZ: Thank you. THE CHAIR: All right. My question is what are we doing to replenish that fund?

MR. LOUIE TORREZ: So probably sooner than I should have, but I asked Director Chavez within the first five days, "So are we going for another one?"

I think even before I got the job, I asked

I was going to ask you if you've heard of UNM ECHO. UNM ECHO is a international online professional development platform that has received huge funding -- we're talking Bill and Melinda Gates we're talking about a lot of millions of dollars -to share best practices. And it's free.

And Michael Stanton -- do you know Michael Stanton? I will -- I will e-mail you his contact info. He heads up an education branch of UNM ECHO. Because UNM ECHO was founded in the medical -- UNM medical field. But there is an education branch. And Michael Stanton heads that up.

And he asks for presentations. And I presented a few years ago about some -- maybe it was project-based learning. I don't know what it was. But to bring more educators into that realm, too. because it's non-intrusive. It takes little time, it's free, and it has a wide net, and they can reach a lot of people.

So I will make a note to myself to give you Michael Stanton's contact, because he's always looking for people to participate. And there's great things going on. We need to share it. And UNM ECHO is a great platform for that. And it's -- it's really big, and it's

11 Walatowa. And I believe in the charter movement in 12 this state. 13 14 15 16 17 18

So I -- I have already spoken with the program officer. I know we could not participate in this current round, because if you have funds, you can't have another set. So I'm already asking, "So when is the next round?"

And we'll -- because we're wrapping things up on September 30th, 2023, will those timelines mesh?

22 So, yes, I'm pursuing that. 23

Their current cap, I believe, is 200 students. They're looking at possibly a 300-student cap, which they would easily be able to serve and recruit that many students in the Albuquerque and surrounding areas because of their program.

I was -- I was actually crying at the meeting earlier this week, and so thankful that the PSCOC agreed and finally said, "Yeah, this is a unique school. It serves a unique community, and we're going to grant a $21 million waiver," which, otherwise, because they're in the Albuquerque district, they could have been required to come up with on their own.

So that's great news. And it just goes to show charters that you have a program, you have a unique program, you can get capital funding. The PSCOC, I think, has had their eyes opened about charters. Joe Guillen actually made the comment that this Albuquerque Sign Language was such a unique charter, and that many charters are serving our at-risk students, and they need the support that the Council can provide.

That was a great -- a great statement triplexes, you know. But they can still cost $300,000 for each unit. And they're about a thousand to 1,300 square feet. They're not huge. They're not going to be elaborate.

But in order to get plumbing in, streets, curbs, gutters, it's a fairly expensive thing. And getting contractors to go into some of these more remote areas, they have to pay their employees. They have to have housing for themselves, staying in hotels and things like that while they're working there. So it can be a very expensive thing.

$10 million can probably, and likely, provide no more than 30 or 40 units. That's -that's the difference we're looking at. But it is a start.

The last thing I wanted to report on in -and, again, if you have contacts in the Legislature and the Governor's Office, it's important. If you remember, a year and a half ago, the Legislature approved the Office of Broadband right in the middle of the pandemic and everything, realizing that there was broadband access issues at schools, and especially at student and staff homes. There's difficulty throughout the state.

The Legislature created the Office of coming from the Executive Director of New Mexico School Boards Association.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: May I interrupt you for one second? Joe Guillen said that you, you, Commissioner Robbins, were instrumental in making all this happen. Because I met with him, and I'll give that on my report. He thinks none of this would have gone through or carried through without you.

> COMMISSIONER ROBBINS: Thank you. The PSFA is working on teacherages. If you want to know what a teacherage is, it's teacher housing. There are about 300 or 400 teacher housing units in some school districts who offer them to other employees. Many of them are old. Some school districts need them or need to either do new or replacement or upgrade.

So those guidelines will be approved, and applications be taken quickly.

So I'll be working with the chair of the PSCOC and with Mariana Padilla from the Governor's Office to finalize those -- the steps for prioritizing applications. Because right now, it's a $10 million amount. And in these remote areas, these teacherages, they're hopefully duplexes or Broadband, but they also directed the Public School Capital Outlay Council to come up with guidelines.

PSFA has done that. We have funding. E-Rate helps provide for equipment and things like that in schools. But it can also be used -- any remaining funds can be used to help build out a network. They're under contract negotiations with Lumen trying to get those finalized.

But the nodes -- and to make -- long story short, the Internet is a very complex thing. Your Internet, whether it's here or at home, connects by wire, you know, or Wi-Fi. But there's a wire somewhere that connects to a hub, a node. That node is then connected to the backbone of the Internet, which allows you to then go to an Internet provider, even overseas, okay?

There are roughly nine nodes that we identified in New Mexico. Most of these nodes are on college campuses, because colleges have built out broadband for their use. But we're trying to work with Higher Ed. Because while they're allowing additional equipment to be in there to certain public schools, some of these things will need upgrades for air conditioning because computers generate a lot of heat, and/or power, because

So that's a stumbling block. Because it is a Higher Ed facility, we don't really have the authorization to pay for that. But Higher Ed supposedly has $5.3 million. We're trying to get movement there.

But we're also trying to get coordination and support from the Office of Broadband. They have two contract workers. They have no permanent employees. A year and a half later, they still don't. We're trying to get pressure placed on the Governor's Office to make this a priority, because there have been statements made that access, broadband access for our students in schools is important. But after a year and a half, not seeing action at the Office of Broadband and getting support, it is very frustrating.

And the Public School Facility Authority has limited capacity to serve all the schools and their Internet needs. And the Department of Information Technology, where the Office of Broadband is housed, also does not have capacity unless that office is staffed.

So that's my report, but also the solicitation for any pressure or nudging that you interactions, and, like, a mandate to be working together on all sorts of different things on a regular basis.

And he hasn't seen that happening. He didn't see that happening with the person he thinks that preceded me, and certainly not in his tenure, that we've just never tried to do that.

I told him very frankly that that first meeting that I attended, and having been on a school board for nine years, I thought I would have had a little bit of respect. I told him that 50 percent of the people who Zoomed in on the meeting turned off the minute I gave my report. Then he kept me waiting for two hours.

And he said, "We can really work on that." He said, "We can make sure that perhaps these reports are given more at the top of the meeting, so we don't have to keep people waiting." I said, "That would be great. I'm happy to come to Albuquerque. I'm happy to -- whatever. If you have a quarterly thing up in Taos, I'll go up there."

It was really great to meet with him, and also, face-to-face, to be able to meet with him. So we talked about this coming -- they could make to try to get things moving along to help our students in schools. Thank you.

THE CHAIR: Thank you. And thank you for your advocating on behalf of the PEC and in behalf of charter schools on that. I mean, that's exactly what those positions are there for; right? That's why our -- our liaison positions are so vitally important. And so you being such a great advocate on it, I am -- I see the pride and happiness on your face, and it's well deserved.

Next is NMPSIA.

Commissioner Manis?

Oh, never mind. He is -- he's not on right now.

So we will go to NMSBA. Commissioner Carrillo.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Believe it or not, I have something to contribute today.

I met with Joe Guillen on Monday. That's where, of course, he -- just saying his accolades for everything that's happened with you, Commissioner.

The -- he agreed also that -- he actually pointed back -- pointed to when PEC was created, that we were supposed to have regular kind of start putting together -- they have a call for proposals, I think it's in September or October, for their December meeting. And this is to put on -put things on the agenda for both days.

The day when they have their -- what's it called? -- a general meeting? -- you know, the convention, where everyone is actually in the same room together, that. And they also -- so we could be on the agenda there if we have something that we want to present. Or if we are speaking on behalf of legislation that we're working on together, which he suggested, absolutely.

And not just school funding, because that's always something. But it's all of these smaller things that really affect both of us in big ways. Because we're all public schools. And so the good thing is, philosophically, I think Joe is right on board with that.

These are all our kids. Doesn't matter if they're in a charter with the district or with the State.

So he also -- because I told him about our -- the -- the working group. I just said that to get your ire. The project team. I told him about our project team and the Performance Framework and things that we're doing, and that because we're charters, we're able to be really nimble, and we're able to try things, and we're able to -- you know, to pilot programs, see if they work, fine-tune them, and take them out and see if they can work anywhere else.

And so he suggested -- and I agreed -- that we might even want to, at their December meeting or their February meeting, which is up here, have a session that is a -- that we present a session on our successes, things that we're doing in our individual charters that have proven successful, and that -- and I would encourage not just board members to attend that one, but superintendents, to attend that sort of a meeting.

Talk about failures, also, you know, where needed.

But the thing that I talked to him also about, which I thought was heard receptively, was, for instance, our project team working on the Performance Framework. Think about it for a minute.

Smaller districts, they can't do this work. You know, the superintendents are really busy just the way our charter leaders are busy. But once we have our Performance Framework done, you know, best schools in New Mexico are smaller, and they're charters. They're smaller schools, but the thing is when you're small, you have the ability to adapt and be nimble. And I think there's no reason why -- I don't understand why Santa Fe still hasn't done this. There's no reason why they can't have another ATC, essentially. Or at least in some of their high schools has programs that ATC has. Why? Because it works. They're, like, No. 2 every year, like, in the state.

And something we talked about also was where we're not in competition with one another. We just had that discussion. Like, that thing -- not a rant, I wouldn't say. But the thing I said at the meeting at the community thing. These are not your dollars. These are not your kids. They're all our kids, so let's try to work together.

So it was, I think, very productive. And I loved his idea of having a session that we present at the NMSBA in December and maybe again at the end of February.

So I'm sorry. I brought -- I have all these yellow pads, and I didn't bring the yellow pad from that meeting with more notes on it. But I think it's a good beginning to reestablish that next couple of weeks -- yeah. That's, like, where is KT, where his eyes lit up when they said it was going to be March for our Mabry?

No. But, seriously, it's a tool that these smaller districts can utilize to really hold their school and school leaders accountable. Because even at Santa Fe, which is -- you know, it's a small district, too. It's only now -- holy smokes. It's down to, like, 12,000 -- 1,200 -- kids. They don't have to recreate the wheel.

We can give them the wheel and say, "Look, you can use this framework for all of your individual schools"; right? And you can hold them accountable for all of this stuff.

And I just think that would be something really great that we can pass on to them, where we spend all the money, hundreds and hundreds of hours doing the work, and they can really benefit from that.

That's just one example. You know, look at -- isn't it, like, the top five schools in this state are all charters? Is that it? I think it's, like, the top five. But are they the top five? Because I know that we have, like -- yeah.

But, anyway, suffice it to say many of the relationship.

So another thing we talked about, which is kind of cool. I didn't know this. And I don't even know -- Pattie, you may not even know this.

When the PEC was created -- let's go back. Floyd was -- the Floyd district, and, more recently, Los Lunas, in the past, it's been Questa, you know, is PED basically taking over or suspending the activities of the board. PED can't fire everybody. These are only elected people. They can only be recalled. But they can suspend a board's activities, right?

Technically -- I didn't know this.

Technically, when we were created, they were looking for things to give us to do. One of the things they're supposed to do is anytime they want to suspend a board, they have to come to the PEC. Do they? Because I just don't remember ever --

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: (Inaudible due to nonuse of microphone.)

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I found that very fascinating. What? Maybe that was -- I had a quick dozey at that point.

I found that really fascinating that we have to be consulted about anytime they're going to it's -- I don't agree with it. But that's just my --THE CHAIR: All right. So if you -- if you do review that, and you have any questions, feel free to e-mail Ms. Barnes. Or anything? Give her a call. The next --COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I'm sorry I've got to do that. THE CHAIR: I don't mind that you do that. But I don't know if we should go back to that topic. COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: We're not going back. And I think it's because --THE CHAIR: I still have more of my report. COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I know that. THE CHAIR: Okav. COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I've slotted till 5:00 for your report. So is this where I would make that suggestion that it be on New Business later? Remember, we talked about --THE CHAIR: I think you were going to do PEC Comment for that.

this, but I'm going to talk to her a little more about what it could look like -- I think it follows along with the principles of the things we're doing as a Commission on a lot of our forms, our contract, our documents. And it's to create the MOU more generally and then have attachments that are the specifics that get changed more often.

So right now, our MOU is very specific. It has really detailed pieces in it, which is also okay. But the idea would be that we take -- so, for example, we have in there that we would like to have a PEC liaison. And then we put in there some job requirements that we would like the Public Education Commission liaison to have.

For an example of what the transition would be is, in the MOU, that it would say that the PEC works collaboratively with PED on all staffing for CSD; right? And that's what the MOU says. It's general about staffing.

And then we create a staffing attachment that's the specifics. And that way, it can be reviewed with CSD annually. We can change that staffing report. We can change the staffing recommendation without reopening the MOU every single year and going through the MOU process.

thing I want to tell you all about is I was able to meet with Dr. Angelo Gonzales on Tuesday to do our -- to introduce him to the MOU from the PEC perspective.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Okay. Got it.

THE CHAIR: Okay. All right. So the next

So Corina had already provided him the MOU as we drafted it, our redline version, to show the kind of differences. We went over the changes from last year to this year.

I think we really focused on what we want end results to be as a Commission and what -- where we can come together on those end results. And then figuring out the "how" is really what the MOU is about.

His major takeaway -- so, basically, what we started is now, he's going to take the MOU, start working with the internal team, start working with his legal team, start working with the procurement, the budget folks, like -- like, all the people on these different items, and start doing their review, and, ideally, come back to us with their responses to our proposal.

One thing that he did propose immediate -- like right away on Tuesday -- that I do want to discuss with you all next month -- and I'm going to talk to -- I already talked to Ms. Barnes about

So creating the MOU more generally and then creating those specific process pieces separately. And that way, we can keep that MOU once again for five, ten years, and, ideally, it doesn't get touched and reopened based off of who's around.

But those pieces that we are expecting to review annually, those are specific. But they're attachments to the MOU.

So I feel like we can be open to that, and I think that's something I'll present -- I'll work with Ms. Barnes on what that could look like from our perspective. Take all of our recommendations, take all of your stuff and kind of separate them out and see what that looks like, and give that to you all next month.

All right. The next thing I wanted to start -- I already talked about it yesterday, but I just wanted to put it again today -- is that we do have the NACSA conference coming up in October.

So, Commissioners, please consider, it's -- I should have had the dates up. I think it's October 24th through the 27th, 23rd through the 27th, somewhere around there. It's in Minneapolis. And we know airline -- the flights are expensive. Things are more expensive right now.

So if we can start providing to CSD that 2 you're interested in going to that, we would like to start getting those processes going so that we can try to be as financially responsible as possible, knowing that the longer we wait, the more expensive things get.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: How best would you like us to let CSD know?

THE CHAIR: That's a great question. I think -- do you want me -- Corina, do you want us to just send you an e-mail if we're interested in going to the NACSA conference? Or do you want to send an e-mail and us respond to it?

DIRECTOR CORINA CHAVEZ: I'll send an e-mail, and you respond to it.

THE CHAIR: Okay. Great. So be on the lookout for that e-mail. And all you have to do is respond and say, "I want to go," and they'll start -- there's an out-of-state travel packet that has to be created that's a little tedious for them up front. So that'll help them get those packets started, which will then allow you to book an airplane, start booking your hotel.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: (Inaudible, space. So I know he'll talk about that during -he'll make a comment. But it's something to think about as well.

Okay. The next one -- I'm on Item b. now, which is Report from Public Charter Schools of New Mexico.

Oh, great. Missy, you are just on top of it all the time. I'm so appreciative of you. Thank VO11.

All right. Mr. Pahl, hello. Welcome. Thank you for joining us today. I want to say first, thank you for hosting the New Mexico delegation meeting at the Charter Schools conference in D.C. That was one of the highlights, I think, for many of us who talked about it. That was one of the highlights was getting together on that Tuesday evening at that reception and being able to see all the New Mexico people in one room. So thank you for your organization for hosting that and having us all together there.

But other than that, please give us your report.

23 MR. MATT PAHL: Yeah. Pretty quick from 24 me.

Thanks to everybody who came to the 231

THE CHAIR: Okay. And then -- yes.

COMMISSIONER GIPSON: Just one guick question. Are there dates for the Austin conference?

THE CHAIR: There are. It was, like -- I think it was, like, 364 days from our last day. So it's, like, that second -- it's going to be that second or third week in June next year. Yes.

So that's -- that's the National Alliance of Charter Schools -- Charter School Conference, that'll be in Austin, Texas, next June, and absolutely.

Okay. Trying to think if there was anything else I missed.

I did have -- I know Commissioner Carrillo is going to talk about this a little bit more. But I did have a conversation with him about a process of introducing items at meetings to be put onto the agenda, in addition to our current process. I think it's in practice with a lot of places, where there's an item that's New Business, and Commissioners are able to just kind of put New Business out there at the time.

And right now, we don't have that as a national conference. We had a contingent of about 45 folks who were -- who were from New Mexico at the national conference. That actually was more than both Arizona and Colorado.

So given the size of our charter movement, we had really good representation there. And I think, you know, we've been semi-open from, you know, pandemic-related stuff. But I think everybody appreciated some -- some in-person, face-to-face time in a different place. So that was really great.

The summer for Public Charter Schools of New Mexico, for PCSNM, in June and July, June is really focused on governing board training. And we had many hundreds of governing board -- 200 to 300 governing board members complete training through us. And we've been really fortunate to work with Missy Brown at Charter Schools Division to just make that process really streamlined. So want to just shout-out Missy for her collaboration and just allowing us to work fluently -- or fluidly and smoothly so it's easy for governing board members to get through the process, to get to training, get -learn what they can learn, and bring it back to their boards.

So we're excited about that and just want to thank her.

And July, normally for us, is a time for planning the upcoming school year.

The last two summers haven't really looked like that. And I really think -- I don't know if you all are feeling it. But this summer feels something closer to a normal summer. People are getting some time off. I know that folks aren't wondering too much about what COVID protocols are for next school year. And I'm really hopeful that that really means something good for our kids this fall, walking into a school year that provides more adult-to-student engagement.

So with our interim planning that we are able to work on this month, you'll see some new professional development opportunities both for school leaders and for charter school teachers. And we are working hard on our legislative platform.

One thing that is happening with the Legislature right now, or at least a conversation that I wanted to highlight for everybody, is changing the multiplying units on base -- base units in the funding formula.

Those were last reset 20, 30 years ago -- of Van that you can show us from your phone?

2 MR. MATT PAHL: I sure do.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: So Van is, like, seven, eight months right now?

MR. MATT PAHL: He is 11 months as of today. Let's see.

7 THE CHAIR: I think, honestly, Mr. Pahl, 8 if you're not here in person, you should have that 9 baby with you.

MR. MATT PAHL: There he is. He's getting chunky. It's fun.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: That's great. Thank you.

THE CHAIR: If he's not in person, he should have his child to where we can see him. I'm just saying.

MR. MATT PAHL: I'll deliver on either being in person or having Van with me.

THE CHAIR: That's your option from now on.

All right. Thank you.

MR. MATT PAHL: Thanks, everyone.

THE CHAIR: All right. We didn't see

24 anyone from the Charter School Advisory Committee, 25 so that'll take us to PEC Comments.

235

1 actually, I think 34 years ago -- and -- and 2 education has changed a lot there. The standards of what we need to do for every single kid have 4 increased, and the amount that we compensate school 5 districts and charter schools for doing that work should change as well.

So I highlight that just because I think that's an ongoing conversation this summer. I'm happy to answer questions about that. But, otherwise, you'll see our legislative platform in September.

I'd love to tell you more about it in August, as we're working on development. So thanks for the opportunity to come here today, and thanks for all your work.

THE CHAIR: All right. I think -- I guess your report is comprehensive enough, and I don't see any questions. So thank you.

All right. First is Commissioner Voigt.

COMMISSIONER VOIGT: Just wanted to give a shout-out on RioGAFA. Attended their ribbon-cutting ceremony last week. They are quite the crowd. The kids cut the ribbon. It was so sweet.

They got so lucky with that facility. I mean, they hardly had to do any prep, maybe a little bit of painting.

But I noticed in the City of Albuquerque's summer program offerings, RioGAFA is also there. They are right there offering classes to kids this summer. So what a great recruitment strategy and getting their name out.

But they're going to be such a sweet school.

Commissioner Carrillo was there as well. And it was really celebratory, and it was a great

But reflecting back to Commissioner Carrillo when he was talking about elected governance council members, there was a question to the Cabinet Secretary by tribal entities that, in light of Yazzie/Martinez and trying to make assurances that boards are following the equity ideas behind the decision, could there be the suspension of boards, not just for financial reasons, but for not following those guidelines?

And the Cabinet Secretary's response was, "Well, you know, in New Mexico, the first line of defense is the voter. You don't vote that board back in. And then, that's the last thing you try to do is to suspend the board."

19 Unfortunately, we don't have elected 20 governance councils, and that's always the challenge 21 when they're not -- they're not acting 22 appropriately. There's fewer recourses. And now 23 it's been taken out, the rule that the Cabinet 24 Secretary can even suspend a governance council. So 25 there's even less that can be done.

3 And I still like the idea of there being 4 two people. And so there would be a second, like if 5 I wanted something on the meeting for August.

> So, I mean, there's no discussion or action taken at this time. But I can say that I am going to want something on the meeting for August. I wouldn't do that now. I'd do this through the old way; right?

And then, in, August, we would put on -is that procedurally what would happen? We have a New Business thing in August for the future? But for what I want to put on in August, can I do that now with Mike Taylor, since he was my guy?

THE CHAIR: There's no discussion right now.

20 THE CHAIR: I can't.

> COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: I will fill out the little form. But something to consider, having a New Business thing -- I'll have that on the agenda also. I'll put -- is that the -- all right.

No other comment.

So it's -- I just wanted to mention that. So thanks.

THE CHAIR: Thanks. Commissioner Carrillo.

COMMISSIONER CARRILLO: Thanks for that new information. And I'll echo what Commissioner Voigt -- I'm sorry -- I'm sorry I missed you, Commissioner Armijo. I left -- I must have just missed you at RioGAFA.

I got to tell you -- if you have a chance, you've got to see this school. It was just -- it was like it was built for them. It's just amazing, even this tile work and all this stuff that's all over the place.

They were so wonderful. Both Michelle and Jordan were wonderful hosts. And the kids -- you know, anything with kids, these kids were great.

Okay. So I believe that we should have something on our agenda regularly that's New Business, so that we, as Commissioners, can put something on an agenda for the following month.

And right now, we only have this form that we fill out, and it's got to be ten days in advance. And, you know, I just -- my sense is that if there's a New Business thing, and you want something on the 1 THE CHAIR: All right. Seeing no other
