

High-Quality Professional Learning Marketplace List 2024

Research shows that access to high quality instructional materials \(HQIM\) is one way to increase student learning. We know that handing teachers a rigorous curriculum is not enough. Professional learning should be aligned to the rigorous materials so educators can fully implement them to meet the diverse learning needs of all students while creating engaged, culturally relevant, and academically competitive learning environments.

It is critical that schools and districts know that their limited resources for professional learning will be used on effective programs that provide for their specific needs. The New Mexico Public Education Department (NMPED) is providing this High-Quality Professional Learning (HQPL) Marketplace List as a guide and tool for teachers, schools, and districts to identify professional learning provider programs that support orientation and on-going implementation of HQIM. The HQPL Marketplace List includes curriculum-based professional learning programs that were reviewed and vetted to ensure they demonstrate evidence-based strategies and results. The HQPL Marketplace List is a resource LEA's can use to begin the selection process for professional learning needs at the local level. The list is not all-inclusive and only providers who responded to the Request for Applications were considered for inclusion on the list.

For more information about the HQPL Marketplace List or HQIM, please contact

Aligned Instructional Materials supported by PL Program:

Provider Review Criteria	Meets = 2 points	Partially Meets = 1 point	Does Not Meet = 0 points	Score	Comments
What are the outcomes of most recent program offering?	Anticipated outcomes are clearly articulated and tightly linked to metrics/indicators of success. Outcomes are tied to administrator/ teacher practice or student outcomes. Or, independent review/random control study found positive results.	Anticipated outcomes are adequately articulated but not all have metrics or indicators to measure success. Outcomes are tied to administrator/teacher practice or student outcomes.	No clearly articulated outcomes, measures, or an illogical link between the two.
What are the conditions for success?	Conditions for success are comprehensive for the program proposed.	Conditions for success listed partially cover the essential elements of the program.	Conditions for success are illogical, impossible, or missing.
How is the continuous monitoring of the progress of the program communicated to the participants?	Continuous monitoring is communicated regularly through multiple means of communication. (ie. student data, program portals, etc.)	Continuous monitoring is inadequate or by inappropriate means.	No continuous monitoring.
How do participants communicate feedback to providers?	Participant feedback opportunities are well developed and integrated.	Participant feedback opportunities are cursory or superficial.	No participant feedback.
