1.b. Mission-specific Goals

The school has received an overall rating of “Meets Standards” by the Charter Schools Division for its Mission-specific goal during each year of the current charter contract. The school has rated as Exceeds Standard or Meets Standard during the most recent three years.

2.a. Educational Program

Explore Academy is fully implementing its educational program, as evidenced by the observable implementation of seminar-based learning, choice-based learning, implementation of daily academic flex periods, and daily professional collaboration between adults. Parental involvement and engagement are also evidenced by parent membership on the School Governing Board, stakeholder reports of active parent organizations and regular volunteer opportunities, and various parent communication mediums, including a PowerSchool-based parent portal, Google Classroom, Remind® family communication system, and school newsletters, the “WolfPup Post” and “The Weekly Howl”.

Explore Albuquerque provided notable evidence consistent with the education program described in their contract, and explained in Part B of the school’s renewal application. It was evident that the specific educational programmatic terms described in the contract directly contribute to an overall positive school culture. Staff, students, and parents describe the “Choice-Based Philosophy” as an aspect of the school that contributes to high student engagement.

The school’s “Choice Based Philosophy” offered at Explore Albuquerque provides a personalized educational experience for students. Students were observed in seminar style classes engaging in student-led learning on both K-5 and 6-12 campuses. The school also offers a “Flex” period in which students on the upper campus were observed working on their coursework independently or socializing with their peers, many students noted that this aspect of the school provides a great opportunity to build relationships. During Flex time some students may be engaging in “Structured Flex” where if they are needing support with a particular class or skill they will be in a separate space getting individualized attention and support; these sessions are offered by educational assistants. The school also utilizes structured flex to provide students with IEPs more focused and individualized learning time.

The community at Explore is very invested and supportive of the educational program, staff and mission of the school. It was evident across student and parent focus groups, that families are pleased with the amount of choice and academic rigor the school offers. Parents especially at the Elementary school feel that their child is getting the individual attention and support they need to be successful by teachers and administration. During the teacher focus groups, they stated that the extensive course catalog offers a wide range of courses for students to pick from and attributes to student excitement about attending and actively participating in school.

It was evident that the Elementary school is still developing their "Flex" program and figuring out how to best utilize this time to meet their specific student needs. One period observed during the visit over 70 students were left with one EA, to work on handwriting skills. In the upper school focus groups there was an expressed dichotomy between the rigorous college preparatory aspect of the school and some of the higher needs of students that attend Explore Albuquerque. Explore's graduation rate falls slightly below the district and state for the 4-year consistently across the charter term.

2.b. Financial Compliance

The school has had Explore Academy has a structured workflow for managing its finances to ensure transparency, accountability, and fiscal responsibility. The business manager works closely with the school to incorporate enrollment projections into their financial planning. Once verified, the business manager updates the financials based on the new data to adjust the School Equalization Guarantee (SEG) calculations. If the school receives adverse audit findings, they take immediate steps to rectify the issues, addressing internal controls and enhancing the schools financial practices. The business managers reviews and tests internal controls on a monthly basis and conducts a monthly financial close to ensure accuracy.

2.c. Governance Responsibilities

Explore Academy had four untimely notifications of governing board membership changes during the current charter term, and this is addressed in the renewal application. The board has maintained the required minimum of five members during the charter term. All board members have completed all required training hours each year of the charter contract except one.

2.d. Equity and Identity

The school has been rated as Meets Standard for 2021-2022 and 2022-2023 for performance framework indicators related to Equity and Identity, and Student Rights, specifically Rights of English Language Learners (1d) and Rights of All Students, representing an improvement since the first two years of the charter term. Additionally, the school has been rated as Meets Standard for each year of the charter term, relative to the Rights of Students with Disabilities (1c).

As evidenced by information from the renewal application and stakeholder conversations, the school demonstrates the ability to protect the rights of all students through the delivery of culturally responsive learning to its students and related professional development to its staff.

During the renewal site visit, diverse instructional materials, classroom libraries, and student cultural representations and expressions were observed throughout the school. Additionally, Social Emotional Learning (SEL) materials and direct delivery of instruction regarding self-regulation strategies were observed throughout the elementary school. Middle-high school students reported strong adult/ teacher relationships, frequent opportunities to foster strong peer-to-peer relationships throughout the day, and collaborative “flex periods” also support their social-emotional learning.

Explore Academy currently has an active equity council that includes staff, school administration, students, and parents.

2.e. Tribal Consultation

The school does not fall under the Indian Education Act (NMSA 22-23A) or the 6.35.2 NMAC definition of a “historically defined Indian-impacted” school.

2.f. Other Performance Indicators

The school was rated Working to Meet standard on indicator 1.d. Rights of English Learners for the first two years of the contract term, but improved processes to earn a rating of Meets Standard for the third and fourth years of the term.
