DATA REPORTING IN NEW MEXICO 2022-2023

The data representations in this report compare Black students by race within their own category and compared with other subgroups. A subgroup generally refers to any group of students who share similar characteristics, such as gender identification, racial or ethnic identification, socioeconomic status, physical or learning disabilities, language abilities, or school-assigned classifications. The subgroups to which Black students are compared in this report include Hispanic students, American Indian students, Asian students, Caucasian students, economically disadvantaged students, students with disabilities, and students designated as English learners (ELs) or English language learners (ELLs). The term Caucasian is used in the high school graduation cohort data in alignment with federal standards for the classification of data on race and ethnicity.

Every Students Succeeds Act (ESSA) requires states to annually measure the achievement of not less than 95 percent of all students in each subgroup of students, who are enrolled in public schools. ESSA requires the assessment of all students, including students with disabilities and English learners, in:

- Reading and/or language arts in grades 3-8 and once in high school;
- Mathematics in grades 3-8 and once in high school; and
- Science once in grades 3-5, once in grades 6-9, and once in grades 10-12

For the 2022-23 school year, students were assessed using the following and the data in this report is considered baseline data and therefore, is not compared to previous years:

1. NEW MEXICO ASSESSMENT OF SCIENCE READINESS (NM-ASR) | GRADES 5, 8, 11 | SUMMATIVE
2. NEW MEXICO MEASURES OF STUDENT SUCCESS & ACHIEVEMENT (NM-MSSA) | GRADES 3-8 | SUMMATIVE
3. DYNAMIC LEARNING MAPS (DLM) | GRADES 3-8, 11 ELA/MATH | GRADES 5, 8, 11 SCIENCE | FORMATIVE/INTERIM/SUMMATIVE

At the time of this report, the New Mexico Higher Education Department did not collect data for the following:

(1) faculty hired in tenure-track positions by ethnicity;
(2) adjunct faculty hired by ethnicity;
(3) number of tenured faculty by ethnicity;
(4) faculty or administration leadership positions by ethnicity.

The Black Education Act Bureau is working collaboratively with the department to secure data for the year 2022-2023 and beyond.
